

Man charged in connection with deaths

Oregon State Police arrested a Eugene man Friday and charged him with manslaughter and criminal mischief in connection with the Feb. 5 deaths of two University freshmen.

The arrest of Donald Ray Miller, 43, of 2074 N. Park Ave., resulted from a collision between his car and the car of the two students who were returning to Eugene from Corvallis. Miller was lodged in the Lane County Jail on two counts of first-degree manslaughter and one count of first-degree criminal mischief, with security set at $110,000.

Cynthia Marie Lind, 20, of Corvallis, and Eric James Nilson, 18, of Oregon City, were southbound on Highway 99

North in Lind's Honda when the accident occurred. Their car was struck by a Camaro being driven by Miller, who was traveling east on Meadowview Road.

Lind and Nilson were returning to Eugene after having dinner with Lind's father, Benton County District Attorney Peter Sandrock, when the accident occurred about five miles east of Eugene shortly after 8 p.m.

Miller and a passenger, Richard Wayne Hardy, 16, of 2337 E. Irwin Way, received minor injuries and were not hospitalized.

Although no citations were issued at the time, a preliminary investigation indicated Miller failed to stop at a stop sign, police said. No charges have been filed against Hardy, they said.

Oregon state law defines manslaughter as "recklessly causing the death of another person" and criminal mischief as "damaging or destroying another person's property intentionally in excess of $200," according to senior trooper Gordon Renskers of the OSP.
