MOSCOW (AP) — Josef Begun came home from prison Monday to a hero's welcome at a snowy railroad station in Moscow, where he vowed to keep up the fight for Jewish emigration and human rights until all Soviet political prisoners are free.

Amid cheers and tears, friends hoisted him onto their shoulders and carried him down the platform as they sang the Israeli national anthem and the Hebrew song "Shalom Aleichem."

Begun said he still wanted to emigrate to Israel, but authorities have made no promises.

Regan resists pressure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's embattled chief of staff, Donald Regan, resisted pressure Monday for his resignation, but sources close to

First Lady Nancy Reagan predicted he will leave soon because she is determined he must go.

As rumors about Regan intensified, White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said the president had not asked Regan to quit. Fitzwater said he's seen no indication that Regan is leaving and that the subject has not come up at senior staff meetings.

Asked if the president still had confidence in Regan, who has been a target of criticism in part because of his actions in connection with the Iran-Contra affair, Fitzwater replied, "Yes. The President has confidence in all the people who work for him."

Oregon pulls out

SALEM (AP) — Despite the threatened loss of $1 million in federal money, Oregon is pulling out of a nuclear attack drill scheduled for next month, Gov. Neil Goldschmidt announced Monday.

The exercise, planned for March 3-5, is designed to test local response to a period of rising international tensions culminating in a nuclear war in which Oregon is hit by 10 atomic bombs.

Goldschmidt, in a prepared statement, said the federally sponsored mock war exercise "defies common sense and is unacceptable to Oregonians."

"Our citizens do not want the state to participate in an exercise that may actually threaten world peace by advancing the notion that a nuclear war is survivable," the governor said.
