

Dual meet goes as planned for Duck women, 87-44

The Oregon women's track team remained faithful to tradition on Saturday at Hayward Field as the Ducks outscored the University of Washington 87-44 in dual-meet action.

It was the Ducks' tenth consecutive dual-meet win against the Huskies and was the largest margin of victory in the last four years of the matchup.

"It's a good stepping stone toward the tough meets," said coach Tom Heinonen. "Our goal was to get through it without hurting anybody and to perform well in front of the home crowd."

Heinonen praised several individuals, among them triple jumpers Julie Goodrich and Janell Thorsland. Both achieved personal records — Goodrich leaped 39-8½ and Thorsland won the event at 38-10¼ — while placing first and second. Phillis McKinney also picked up a point, jumping 38-2.

If the triple jump was a breeze for the Ducks, the other two leaping events made up for the lack of competition. Washington's Vicki Borsheim and Oregon's Camille Jam-polsky epitomized the true meaning of "duel." Both jumped 6-2, which broke the meet record, but Borsheim captured first place by virtue of fewer misses.

Like so many other Ducks, Yvette Brown put on a good show, placing first in the shot-put (50-2¼) and second in the discus (159-5).

In the sprints, Stefanie Hunter had no problem with the Husky runners, claiming the 100-meter hurdles, and Sharon Otterstedt zipped to a first in the 400-meter hurdles.

As always, Oregon distance runners put on a captivating show. Husky Sarah Bolender sneaked away with first place in the 800 meters, but Colleen Quam's second place time of 2:09.52 was good enough to become Oregon's 15th Pac-10 qualifier.

In the 1,500, Liz Wilson overhauled Washington's Laura Farias and teammate Penny Graves in the last 100 meters to win in 4:29.79. Graves has already surpassed the NCAA qualifying standard in the 3,000 meters.
