PHIL LEVINSON ROBERT BALL

The People.
Some participate, but some do not. Some exert influence, while some cannot. But all are University of Oregon students. While SPA dominated ASUO government and enhanced the welfare of its own people, student welfare suffered. Now, while student politicians are concerned with trying to sell themselves for votes, students have grown concerned about their own future.

The People's Concern.
The inequitable spending practices of the ASUO and the IFC; previous haphazard attempts at improving the quality and safety of our educational environment; the future expansion of student aid and services in a fair and rapid manner; and, overall, looking out for students' diverse but collective interests.

The People's Interest.
It is in fairness and equal opportunity. It is also in having a strong, representative student voice. But while student political insurgents stake their claims to power, poised for the opportunity to do things their own way, they are sacrificing the true interests of the students. That is, denying us the chance to make our own choices.

The People's Choices.
It is getting ASUO government on our side and off our backs. It is having leadership that is unafraid to act on the collective interest, instead of the special interests. It is having students' money and local affairs be ASUO's top priority. It is where the real future of Oregon lies.

The People's Future.
The time to believe in The People, the time for Oregon's future, is now. That's why we are proud to be The People's Choice.

THOMAS STANSFIELD

I can see you, standing there and wondering "Why should I vote for this guy? What makes him better than the rest of them?" Is he actively involved in the ASUO? A Student Union? OSPIRG? Or any other program funded by the ASUO?"

The answer to these questions, is that I am not special in any way and that is exactly why you should vote for me. Since I have never been involved in any of the programs that are funded by the ASUO, or in the ASUO itself, I would be walking into that office without bias against, or in favor of, any particular program. I would be looking at it all through fresh eyes, free of the self-justification and self-interest often produced in any kind of bureaucratic organization.

But I am first, second, and lastly a student. Therefore my concerns are those of a student, about being a student. That is my vice, my personal prejudice. If it has anything to do with being a student, then it has my full and biased attention. If it helps the students of this University to learn and experience more, or to expand their abilities to their maximum potential. Then it will have priority over anything that is less so.

If it is your desire that the next ASUO President should be primarily concerned with the students, as students. But holding little bias for any particular program. Then remember to vote: STANSFIELD FOR PRESIDENT.

Student Senate

Seat #1 - Graduates/Law/Interdis. Stud./Educ./Jour.

DUANE DUNGANNON

The student senate is an important governing body on campus, and we should all expect fair representation when our senators act on issues that affect us.

For example, several student senators voted in favor of mandatory drug testing for our athletes. Had I been a senator, I would have fought such legislation.

I am also very concerned about a mania that prevails when majority groups conspires to evict minority groups from campus circles. I will do my best to torpedo any such attempts in the senate.

The parking problem on campus is a mess that should have been cleaned up ages ago, and with projected enrollment increases, the situation is only looking worse. Finding solutions to our parking pinch will be one of my highest priorities.

Making sure that students get a fair shake from the university in areas like academic deadlines and grievance procedures will also be a key concern.

If the issues I have addressed in this statement are of concern to you, I hope that you will remember to vote for me, Duane Dungannon, in the coming election.

Seat #2 - Graduates/Law/Interdis. Stud./Educ./Jour.

PAUL THOMAS COUGHLIN

With bright, energetic, Kennedy-style leadership, the Student Senate can bring a new, robust outlook to student government. I believe the Senate can and must play an active role in pursuing the interests of students on campus.

My experiences with student journalism and student activities has inspired me to seek the Student Senate journalism seat.

I am currently a free-lancer for the Oregon Daily Emerald, managing editor of the Oregon Commentator, a member of the board of directors of Men Against Rape, as well as a member of the University soccer team.

I am also founder and president of the Merry Incorporation of Celtic Kin — a cultural student union formed this year on campus.

The school of journalism requires professionalism and responsibility from its students. When elected, I plan to bring these qualities to the Student Senate.

MARK SANDERS

The ASUO represents the students, but if used effectively the Student Senate can shape how we as students are represented. The Student Senate has tremendous power (a 2/3 vote). If this power is correctly centralized and directed we will be able to fully benefit all the students needs.

We are all students regardless of our different academic standing, race, color, living situation or disability. Issues such as scooter parking safety and add/drop deadlines affect us all. By listening to others' problems or ideas, new committees can be formed and problems can be solved while new precedents can be established. I feel that I have the ability to listen to others and create new committees and then see them through to help better all of us, the students!

I am currently a sophomore, Political Science/pre law student and over the past two years I have seen changes occur that have not always benefited our department. I feel that I have the ability to become involved with issues that directly effect the Political Science Department and I feel that I am the best candidate to sit on the #5 Political Science Seat.

Seat #6 - Sociology/Psychology

ALICIA SLOAN

As a participating member of OSPIRG's State Board, I have seen many issues that directly concern and affect students rights on a broad variety of issues, both on campus and in the community at large. With this experience, I have a sense of how powerful students can be and that they CAN make changes that affect them and the rest of the community.

As a Peer Health Advisor and student of Psychology, I have very concrete experience with students' needs on campus and the facilities for them on campus. I see students regularly, and am familiar with their emotional and psychological needs. I, therefore, understand both students' power and responsibility, and needs and rights.

My goal on Student Senate is to represent and demonstrate to students that they have rights, and they can use those rights to make changes on campus. As a Senator, I would have the power to make these changes.

There are many important issues on campus that need to be dealt with. Childcare, campus safety, financial aid, student/faculty relations, and very importantly, minority issues, NEED to be addressed.

Give me the opportunity to help MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

Seat #7 - Speech/Theatre/Music/TCF

MICHAEL FAHERTY (Seat #7)

There are three qualities which are essential to actively participating in the Student Senate. Communication, Cooperation, and Organization are qualities that I possess, and I am willing to share these as a representative of the students on the University of Oregon Student Senate.

I am currently Alumni Chairman for Sigma Alpha Epsilon and I was also Pledge President in 1986. Other leadership qualifications include being a Catholic gradeschool boys basketball coach in Portland during 1984 and 1985. Involvement in activities such as these has given me skills which I would be able to use in the Student Senate. I would like to see finer interaction between students and the student government at the U of Oregon. I also feel that strong communication skills and sincere cooperation with the University Senate and Assembly (faculty) will lead to better student and campus policies. Finally, I will be happy and motivated when fellow students come to me with various issues and problems that they may be concerned with.

In concluding, I would like to encourage students to vote in the upcoming weeks, and please remember MICHAEL FAHERTY FOR STUDENT SENATE SEAT #7 (rhcm, theatre, music, tcf).

PETER NISBET

I believe the Student Senate and especially Senate Seat #7, needs to be maintained by a collegian willing to represent the student in a fair unbiased presence.

Being a part of a competitive university, the voter must elect a candidate who will represent fairness and assert themselves toward understanding the issue of significance.

The ability of Senators to recognize their departments strengths and weaknesses will be to the utmost importance. Consistent communication with faculty and department directors is the primary objective of my campaign. Working as a liaison between students and faculty is necessary through unified communication. These relations will enhance the probability for solutions within Senate Seat #7 and throughout the entire Student Senate.

The need for a legitimate governing body within the University of Oregon is essential. I have the highest regards for students and will extend my efforts in meeting the desired needs of the University of Oregon students.

SEAN SMITH

I, Sean E. Smith, hereby announce my candidacy for the Student Senate position #7 (Speech/Theatre/Music/TcF) If elected, I can be as fair and honest as any person, concerning U of O issues.

As a TcF major and a music minor, I believe I can pay equal attention to the needs of the Marching Band and the Theatre department. I will do whatever I can to see that the students in Villard Hall and the Music School get proper funding and organization for the future.

I would like to see more money moving towards the arts here at the University. The Music School needs the modern technology to keep up with today's musical achievements. The TcF department would benefit from a chyron machine for better television production. The Speech and Theatre departments could benefit simply from more space. With proper funding, all departments could achieve higher standards of learning.

As a member of the U.S. Army for two years, I developed good organizational and communication skills. If elected to Student Senate position #7, I will use these skills and my time and influence to ensure the success of the departments I represent.

Seat #9 - Business

ERIC GRIMES

"Because my interests have always been in the marketing/sales end of Business, representing the Business seat of the Student Senate really sounded interesting.

My communication skills are what I feel to be my most valuable asset. Having the ability to communicate the views I represent in larger groups, such as the faculty-student University Senate or the University Assembly, is something I've had experience in.

The number one goal of mine is a smoothly run Student Senate. With the listening to and respecting of all views presented, democracy and equality is achieved. I will put in the time required to improve cohesion and our senate's efficiency, for this is most important. Using the business know-how that I have learned, I will perform for the students of this University."

NATHAN WALKER

Business students are not all Alex Keatons in three-piece suits. We are diverse individuals with diverse opinions. However, we are all alike in that we want responsible representation in student government. I understand the many facets of students in the business school and am therefore uniquely qualified to reflect the business student's interest in both diversity and responsibility.

I am independent of any campus group and therefore can better represent your concerns as individuals.

In the past we have seen how mismanagement can aggravate university problems. As a student representative for the business seat I would make every effort to ensure that the student senate is both manageable and accountable.

PAT BROWN

I was appointed to the Student Senate in November 1986. In the short time that I have held this position I have been impressed with the scope of the issues that the Student Senate deals with. For example, as a member of the Senate's Drug Testing Committee, I worked on legislation calling for an ethical and effective means of dealing with substance abuse among student-athletes and calling for an end to the personally invasive practice of drug testing that now goes on. This legislation is pending in the University Senate. I would like to be re-elected to this position in order to continue working on this issue and to become involved in others in order to improve the quality of life at the University of Oregon.

Seat #14 - AAA/PPPM/Econ.

KRISTINA MCNITT

I'm running for a University of Oregon Student Senate position because I'm strongly committed to its purpose—that of representing students interest in the policy-making decisions of this university. All Student Senate members play an influential part in establishing UO policy that eventually effects each student here on campus. This is a role that can not be taken lightly.

My extensive experience on both appointed and elected state and national policy making committees for several different organizations well qualifies me for this position. It's essential to vote for a candidate who will best represent the interests of the average student. I am that candidate and hope to receive your vote.

Seat #15 - Dance/PE/Rec./Human Dev. & Perf.

Seat #16 - Undeclared

RANDY MACDONALD

I have served the students of the University as a Student Senator since Winter 1986. For the past year I have been Chair of the Senate, and a member of the Associated Students Presidential Advisory Council. I also served as Director of ASUO Off-Campus Housing last summer.

I am running for the Student Senate again because I am concerned that students get full, proper and experienced representation from their elected student officials. I am an SPA-endorsed candidate and have worked to improve registration, student access to the UO Administration, end mandatory drug testing, and improve wheelchair accessibility on the UO campus. If I am elected, I will continue to advocate for student's rights, and to serve the student body in the fullest way possible.

JOHN (JACK) T. LOOP

Seat #17 - Undeclared

CORY WYNNE (Seat #17)

There is an assumption that mere experience is the key to quality leadership. Through my experience in student government and other activities; however, I have witnessed enthusiasm as being a superior indicator of success and accomplishment. Gratefully, I possess both. Currently, I am the Student Senator for Undeclared majors, seat 17. I am very eager to work in this capacity again.

The Student Senate is the vital link between we the students and the Faculty/Administration. This position is not to be taken lightly. Our influence in matters can possibly affect the entire student body; therefore, a senator must have the respect of others. This, I feel, I have gained through my dedication and enthusiasm for my position.

I am apolitical in my approach. My sole motivators are the concerns of students and the continued success of our university. I hope to continue to represent and serve all Undeclared majors. I understand the need for the Undeclared to have available all avenues concerning their academic future.

If elected, I will actively listen to all student concerns and will work with diligence in order to achieve success.

Please vote for CORY WYNNE.

EMU Board 2 year seats

KEVIN TAYLOR

The E.M.U. embodies a great diversity of Programs. This very diversity, I feel, is its strength. I would like to further strengthen the E.M.U. Board by adding my own non-biased input to the board. Through the E.M.U. Board, decisions are made which require step by step implementation. Through past experiences, I have found this to be an area in which I am especially talented.

MATT SMITH

The decisions made by the EMU Board must reflect the needs of all of us regardless of political affiliation and personal bias. We are all students sharing a common concern for our education and future. The perceptions we acquire are directly related to the cultural atmosphere our campus provides. The Board can provide the space and money allowing us to explore the nonacademic pursuits so valuable to our lives and careers.

As a current member of the '86-'87 Board my goal has been to represent the interests of the average student in a human, common sense manner. I prefer to deal with people individually and directly basing my decisions on your demands. When it comes right down to it, this is student government not Washington D.C.. There is no reason your views and desires cannot be directly represented in Board decisions. I hope to provide you with the necessary outlet facilitating your interests into action. My past experience as a participating member of four EMU programs and an employee of two has given me a valuable platform to ground my knowledge. Thank you for letting me represent you in the past terms. I hope you will support me at this election so I can provide you with the practical representation you deserve.

BO KIM

I believe the Erb Memorial Union is UO students' building. It is here to serve students and it has been improving every year. I have been involved with Asian/Pacific American Student Union for about two years. I have held the assistant director and director positions. Currently, I am working as an ASUO comptroller, dealing with almost all the student groups on campus, keeping up with their accounts and balances. Having been involved with student government and student organizations, I realize the importance of individual student's voices. With these experiences, I can be an effective advocate for students and student organizations.

I will be your voice to EMU. If you have or know of any way to make our EMU better place, I will do my best to listen and be sure to consider your ideas and thoughts. Remaining accessible and responsive to students' needs is a top priority for me.

And I also have been endorsed by SPA.

JOERN WETTERN

I am running for the EMU Board because I think that it is an often neglected area of student control over student programs. I am currently the Vice Chair of the EMU Board. This experience will help me to take part in the decisions the EMU Board has to face during the coming year. The EMU has to be more responsive to student needs and it has to be students who control how their money is spent after it has been allocated to the EMU. The EMU Board has to take a more active role in this process.

One major issue the EMU Board will have to deal with next year is the Main Desk's performance. It is ridiculous that money is lost in this area. Attempts have to be made to restructure the Main Desk so it won't lose money any more. My experience as the Treasurer of the U of O Bookstore will help me to make decisions in this area.

I am a member of Students for a Progressive Agenda. I want to be part of continuing SPA's six-year tradition of responsive leadership in student politics. Much remains to be done. Let's do it together.

JIM MUNYER

Powerful forces are evident in causing the Business, Athletic, and Science departments to prepare for the 21st century, but many other areas of this campus are being left in the past.

With almost ten years experience in the work force as a social services worker and community activist, I bring to this position the ability to bridge the gap between the ideal and the pragmatic. As a primary proponent for expanding and improving university-wide childcare, I intend to continue with my focus on this crucial issue. I believe we can establish policy that will pragmatically support the ideal of model childcare on this campus without raising student fees.

As a single parent I am most concerned about childcare issues, however, the improvement and/or expansion of many student union services are needed to insure we have the best of educational opportunities. I am concerned about the new Computer Lounge being already too small for meeting the needs of students, as well as being concerned of the inappropriateness of military recruitment on campus. Moreover, the campus can support a wider diversity in the marketplace of ideas through support of a variety of non-traditional publications. We need alternatives to the Emerald.

LISA NICHOLS

Erb Memorial Union is one of the most frequently used buildings on campus. I will help the EMU to become even better by continuing the improvements currently being made and by proposing further progress. I would like to see the EMU open all night during finals. Another goal of mine is to make sure that the awarded office space downstairs is better utilized. Some of the most important improvements can be made through grants for Child Care Center affiliated buildings. I will try to eliminate problems and alleviate any other of your concerns, as is the policy of the Concerned Students for Responsive Leadership. I sincerely hope you will join me in making our student union even better, and continue to voice your interests. Keep improving your student union by voting for Lisa Nichols on April 15, 16, 22, and 23.

EMU Board 1 year seat

WILLIAM TODD

I am running for a one-year position on the EMU Board. I am currently a graduate student in Environmental Studies and am working part time with Citizens Action For Lasting Security. My educational focus here at the University of Oregon is environmental awareness and protection. I will bring to the EMU Board a commitment to keeping the EMU a comfortable area offering students and the general public a diverse range of political and educational viewpoints, and an open forum for student and community grassroots organizations to be able to bring these wide range of issues to the public.

TAMIE KAUFMAN

My name is Tamie Kaufman. I am a freshman pre-journalism major here at the University of Oregon, and I care about the students of this school. In the past few months, I have become aware of the problems within this school's student government. Instead of just complaining about this situation though, I have decided to do something about it by running for a position on the EMU board. Every student and student group should be represented equally. As a board member, I would have the opportunity to use my skills to work with the other members in our student government to assure that you, the students are properly represented.

Without the proper representation, the students of this school are nothing. Past governments have abused or misused the power given to them. While problems with the abuse of power are small now, who knows what will happen if things are allowed to continue.

The students of this university are my major concern and I will represent everyone to the best of my ability. If you care enough about your school then take time and vote for Tamie Kaufman. Thank you for your time and effort.

IFC 2 year seats

JOSHUA M. KING

Being a freshman at the University allows me to approach an IFC seat with an unbiased mind. My earnest desire is to represent the students of the University, and the views of students are best represented by a person free of campus political affiliation.

Although I am young, I've learned the lessons of leadership through myriad high school activities, as well as Washington, D.C. internships in the area of historic preservation. I feel that I have an excellent understanding of the political and economic issues confronting the IFC, and I am knowledgeable, as well as unbiased, candidate.
