

Crew wins four events

The Oregon crew team captured four team events at the Redwood Sprints at Humboldt State University in Eureka, Calif. on Saturday. The women's lightweight varsity and novice 4-rower teams won first place, as did the men's varsity 8-rower team and lightweight 4-rower team. The men's novice 8-rower squad received second-place honors. Both the men and women will compete at the Portland Regatta this Saturday.

Oregon baseball's three games with Western Washington State University were rained out over the weekend. The Ducks travel to Linn-Benton Community College in Albany Sunday for a doubleheader.

Oregon's lacrosse club rattled University of Puget Sound, 24-2, over the weekend. They will participate in the 28-team field at the Pacific Northwest Lacrosse Association Invitational at Delta Park in Portland. The Ducks will meet the University of Washington for first-round action at 8:30 a.m. this Saturday.

"Bubba's," the Oregon women's soccer squad, defeated Omega, 3-1, in city league competition Monday. Julie Anderson led the way with two goals. Oregon plays Springfield Monday at Cal Young Middle School.

PSU gets another thorn jabbed in its side as Ducks sweep again

By Gary Henley
Of the Emerald

The Oregon softball team continued to frustrate Portland State University as the Ducks defeated the Vikings for the fifth and sixth times of the year with a doubleheader sweep Tuesday at University Field, 8-1 and 8-0.

Oregon coach Teresa Wilson commented that playing a team six times in one year has its good and bad points.

With a 6-0 mark against the Vikings, Wilson said, "you have a tendency to let down, and not get up for games like this, but we did a great job today. We got up early and we did a good job staying up."

The Ducks woke up late in the initial inning of the first game, however, as the first three Viking batters reached base safely, loading the bases with no outs.

Some timely fielding and solid defensive work got the Ducks out of the inning unscathed.

The Oregon bats came alive early too, but the Vikings had a little more trouble getting out of the inning.

Vicki Fry led off with single, Paula Barnes and Capi Lynn both drew walks off PSU pitcher Traci Moen, and suddenly the Ducks had the bases loaded with no one out.

Kira Lewis, who has been a nightmare for opposing pitchers in the month of April, drilled a pitch into right field which got by outfielder Paula Henkel and rolled to the fence. Three runs came in, and the Ducks had all it would need for game one.

For insurance, Oregon added another three runs in the bottom of the third inning, including a Stacye Gustafson triple which scored Lynn and Ronda McKenzie.

Sue Voeller threw seven strong innings for her 11th win of the year, giving up a run on three hits. "I pitched more consistently today," said Voeller. "I felt I started pitching more consistently in (last weekend's) tournament, and that warmed me up."

The hot-hitting Lewis went two-for-four and drove in four runs, and Gustafson added another two hits and two RBI's.

Pitcher Sony Schroeder and the Ducks made quick work of the nightcap, as the day only grew worse for PSU.

After being retired 1-2-3 through the first two innings, Oregon erupted for eight runs in the third, nearly batting through the order twice.

With the bases loaded and one run already in, Cheryl Coryell's line-drive single scored Barnes and set the stage for Voeller's ground-rule double to left field, which scored Lewis and Gustafson with the third and fourth runs.

The fun was only beginning for Oregon, as Schroeder followed with a double to center, scoring Coryell. Three walks led to three additional runs before the Ducks were retired with the bases still loaded.

Vikings pitcher Jeanne Livingston walked seven Oregon batters in the inning alone, and PSU was assured of leaving Eugene still winless against the Ducks.

Wilson said Schroeder's performance in the nightcap was "as good as she's thrown all year."

"Everything was working well today," Schroeder said. "It was my best game. I feel a lot more confident now."

Game two was called after five innings, due to a seven-run rule limit. PSU will get two more shots at Oregon on May 5 in Portland, while the Ducks could use more eight-run outings in upcoming home games against nationally-ranked UCLA and the University of California on Sunday.
