Did you vote in the ASUO elections this year?

'Yes because things aren't going to change unless I continue to vote, also I cared a lot about the leadership in office and I had a vested interest in Ballot Measure 6.'

— Dianne Danowski, junior, journalism

'Yes because I felt it was my duty as a college student, just as it is my duty in the national elections to vote, and my vote does count.'

— Patric Crabb, senior, elementary education

'No, I've never been able to get real interested in campus politics and maybe it's a bit of an anti-greek statement since the greeks are so intent in getting their people to vote.'

— Miriam Ferziger, junior, English

'No because I didn't feel that I knew enough about the issues to vote and it was a pain in the ass being bothered by people constantly handing out flyers. I think they could of had a better way of doing that.'

— Todd Stevens, freshman, pre-law.

'Yes because I was interested in voting on the ballot measures, and I especially wanted to see the Marching Band and the Athletic Budget Measures pass. I at least wanted to feel that I contributed to the ballot measures and that my vote counted.'

— Jeani Littrell, junior, English.

'No I didn't vote because I didn't think the candidates were important enough. The reason I did not vote for either of the people is because they seemed to want to buy votes from students, and they did not seem to care about the issues. I believe once they get the votes they will ignore the issues, they are all smoke and no fire.'

— Ibraheem Nohab, senior, fine arts.
