

Sports

Arizona takes Pac-10 championship

By Dan Goulet
Of the Emerald

Victory shined on the University of Arizona's Larry Silveira twice Wednesday when he and his golf team raced away with the Pacific 10 Championship.

The Wildcats hung close to tourney leader UCLA for three rounds before pouncing on them late to take a two-stroke victory on the sun-soaked Eugene Country Club course. Arizona rode to its fourth tournament win of the year on the swings of Silveira and Eric Meeks, who shot a 68 in the third round.

"Silveira picked us up the last nine, but it was Meeks who keyed the win for us," said Arizona coach Rick LaRose.

After going one-over-par for the first nine holes, Silveira broke loose to birdie four of the last six, including the decisive one at 18, to finish with a two-under 70, a one-stroke victory over Arizona State's Jim Strickland and UCLA's David Rhorer.

"I wasn't even thinking about winning the title until I birdied 15," Silveira said. "After 15, I knew 16 and 17 were easy."

However, those same easy holes looked more like graveyards to Strickland when he bogied both to relinquish the lead.

Strickland and Rhorer, who sank a 25-foot birdie on hole 17 to draw within one of the lead, parred harmlessly on the final hole to give Silveira his third tournament win of the year.

"I had bogie-free golf in the third round, but gutted the ball around the course today. I feel fortunate to win, especially when I was sitting at one-over at the turn," Silveira said.

ASU had three golfers in the top five to draw even with UCLA for second place while Oregon remained a distant fourth — just three strokes ahead of USC.

Following Silveira's four-day total of 289 were Strickland and Rhorer at 290; ASU's Bill Mayfair, Greg Cesario and Oregon's Tony Joyner at 292.

Joyner came into the final round just one shot off the lead, but he failed to capitalize on numerous birdie opportunities after shooting a three-over 75.

"My magic putter turned to powder," he said.

Sitting at five-over after seven holes, Joyner caught fire when he birdied the next three holes. But with his brother, Shell, absent from the gallery, he was a shell of his former self that sank 27 putts the day before. Joyner blew eagle and birdie putts of less than 12 feet on five of the next six holes. "My stroke was a little jerky. I sank a birdie on 14, but that didn't make up for my slow start," he said.

Birdies were no problem for Silveira after he sank five for the round. "My putting bought me the win," he said.

Silveira, who usually plays number one or two for the Wildcats, asked LaRose to place him lower before the tournament.

"Larry hasn't played well the last few tour-

Photo by John Giustina

Oregon's Tony Joyner, at the 16th hole here, tied for third.

naments," LaRose said. "It seems that whoever plays number one for us finishes number two. This tournament we sacrificed Larry Springer and let one of our other guys win it," he said.

Arizona holed its way to a NCAA berth; Oregon is hanging on the lip of the cup.

"We're still on a bubble," coach Scott Krieger said. We might be a little better off since we beat USC, but it'll be about two weeks before we know anything," he said.

Pro golfer and former Duck All-American Peter Jacobsen had high praise for his alma mater as he watched from the gallery. "We have some great kids out here; they handled themselves well this tournament," he said.

"Obviously, I was looking forward to Oregon winning the whole deal. Down the road, when they start maturing, they'll do great because they have so much talent with Rintoul, Hal Cochran, Krieger and Holzgang. Coach Krieger's done a fantastic job with these guys," Jacobsen said.

★ COPIES ★
Krazy Kats
Try Us!
884 East 13th st.

TAN

10 visits

$25

The look you like for the look they love. SunShower on campus 485-2323 • 874 E. 13th Upstairs by Kinko's

TYPING UNLIMITED

Barbara Land

New Location

Bijou Theatre Bldg.
Grad School Approved
IBM Compatible

Resumes • Cover Letters
School Papers • Misc.

492 E. 13th Ave. Suite 101

485-0890 or 345-3414

COUGHING OR WHEEZING DURING JUNE?

The Allergy & Asthma Center of Eugene-Springfield, P.C. is looking for volunteers who have asthmatic symptoms during the hayfever season. Participants are needed for a study of a new antihistamine not yet released in this country, that may be beneficial for asthma. Volunteers must be males 12 to 65 years of age, or women of non-child bearing potential. The study will begin in May and last for four weeks. Participants will be reimbursed $125 for their time. If you are interested, please call 485-0316.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

GET THE EDGE

Juniors and Seniors in the College of Arts and Sciences can gain professional experience and earn upper-division credit through the following Summer Internships:

Adlib Inc. -media planning	AlphaHealthCare -programming	Business Assistance Team -research
City Manager's Office -research	Hilton -writing, promotions	Corrections Div. -research, casework
Hult Center -writing/PR	Kaufman's -retailanalysis	Koco's Travel -travel planning
KUGN Radio -promotions	KZEL Radio -production	Lane Regional Arts Council -graphics/writing
M. Damien Pub. -research	Metro Partnership -research	Eugene/Springfield Convention-Visitor's Bureau -research/sales
Red Cross -PR, programming	Shearson-Lehman Bros. -sales	City of Eugene Inter-Governmental Relations
United Way -writing, program development	WISTEC -PR, design
Lane Transit District -PR, marketing	Valetine's Travel -travel planning

For more information, come to 211 Hendricks Hall. Sign-ups begin May 11.

Jello wrestling

Dorm residents Brian Mulligan (behind) and Eric Gould beat the heat Wednesday by wrestling in jello. Several dorm residents participated in the event.

Photo by Shu-Shing Chen

DRINKING
AND DRIVING
.....
CAN KILL
A FRIENDSHIP