Kinko's offers a unique blend of coffees and coffee drinks. Where else can a student get copies of a final essay or paper and a cup of double espresso to go?

Chocolate Mint, Swiss Chocolate Almond, Irish Creme, Sumatra, Mocha Java, and some dark coffees like French Roast.

A cup of the fresh-ground brew of the day will set you back 40 cents for a small and 50 cents for a large. Espresso's also are available. For example, there is cappuccino, which is a blend of espresso and steamed milk; Cafe Au lait, which is a single dose of espresso and double dose of milk, both for $1; and Cafe Roma, which is double espresso and double milk for $1.25.

The coffee at Kinko's is high quality, and this comes out in the positive feedback the place has received since they began serving coffee. According to Carrie Ficek, an employee at Kinko's, "lots of people come in and say: 'this is the best coffee on campus.'"

A special benefit regarding Kinko's coffee counter is the personalized service provided by the people at the counter. For instance, the coffee section manager, Madelyn, claims she remembers who her usual customers are and what they drink.

Located directly across the street from Kinko's is Kona Cafe, at 853 E. 13th Ave. A quaint cafe, Kona offers a varie-
