The undefeated Oregon wrestling team added another notch in its belt Wednesday night by defeating the Portland State Vikings in one of the toughest meets of the season.

Oregon beat the Vikings 24-15 before 337 fans at MacArthur Court. With the victory, the Ducks move within one win of tying their best start ever. Oregon improved to 9-0 for the year while Portland State fell to 4-6-1.

The Ducks' best start ever occurred in both the 1980-81 and 1981-82 seasons when they posted 10-0 records to start their seasons.

"I thought they were going to beat us," Oregon coach Ron Finley said.

Oregon fell behind early with a 9-4 loss by Jerry Valencia in the 118-pound match. Portland State's Broderick Lee took a 6-2 lead in the first period to do most of damage and give Oregon's Danny White (bottom) may have won the meet for the Ducks in his 7-7 draw against Andre Taylor, withstanding a near fall position for almost a minute and a half.

Portland State a 3-0 lead. The Vikings then forfeited the 126-pound match to James Hawthorne and, Oregon led 6-3.

Twenty-seven seconds into the 134-pound match Glenn Jarrett took down PSU's Hiag Brown for a quick 2-0 lead, and Jarrett led 2-1 after one period.

Jarrett completed a near fall and takedown of Brown in the second period for a 6-2 lead, which he held on to to win 8-4. Oregon led 9-3.

"Jarrett's meet was outstanding! He should have had a standing ovation," Finley said. Jason Pehling took a close 3-2 loss to Mike McNall in the 142-pound match, and Portland State was back within three, 9-6. George Johnston had a takedown with only one second left in the second period of the 150-pound competition on way to a 8-3 victory. Halfway through the meet Oregon led 12-6.

Portland State returned to glory with Dan Russell's superior decision 21-6 victory against Vince Hochanadel in the 158-pound match. The five-point win made the score 12-11, Oregon.

Danny White may have won the meet for the Ducks when he escaped with a 7-7 draw in the 167-pound match. Andre Taylor of the Vikings had White in a near fall position for nearly a minute and a half before time ran out in the first period.

White returned to tie it twice in the second and third periods for the draw. Oregon led 14-13.

Oregon took control of the rest of the meet with two major decisions by Curt Strahm in the 177-pound match and Chuck Kearney in the 190-pound division. Oregon got a draw from Cam Strahm in the heavyweight match, Oregon took the Vikings 24-15.

The Ducks take on the Fresno State Bulldogs Saturday at MacArthur Court.
