HOPE AND GLORY

"In his brilliantly evocative and warmly comic semi-autobiographical reminiscence of a boy's life during the Blitz, director John Boorman gives us a world of bomb shelters, gas masks and random death — a nightmarish landscape that also somehow becomes the greatest playground imaginable."
— Sheila Benson, L.A. Times

JEAN de FLORETTE
ONE WEEK ONLY!

"Yves Montand in a brilliant portrayal of a crafty Provençal peasant determined to acquire an adjacent property for his only relative by driving out the new owner, a hunchbacked urban bookkeeper (Gerard Depardieu)."

VERONICA VOSS

Rainer Werner Fassbinder traces the declining days of an aging, down-and-out actress. A reporter investigates Veronica's mysterious past and uncovers shocking, sordid secrets. Stars Rosel Zech and Hilmar Thate. Germany, 1982. 105 min.

WEDNESDAY DOUBLE FEATURE
Starts at 7pm in 150 GEO

MEDIUM COOL — The first half of the political drama double feature is a perceptive commentary on the political strife of the 1968 Chicago Democratic Convention. Directed by noted cinematographer Haskell Wexler, the film uses cinema verite and old-fashioned romance to tell a story of a cameraman (Robert Forster) who makes both a political and emotional commitment during the unrest. Co-stars Verna Bloom, 1969, 110 min. Shows at 7 pm.
ADVISE AND CONSENT — The second feature is about the turmoil that follows when an ailing, self-willed president appoints a highly controversial man to be secretary of state. Stars Charles Laughton (his last performance), Henry Fonda, Walter Pidgeon, Franchot Tone, and Don Murray. Directed by Otto Preminger in 1962. 138 min. Shows at 8:55 pm.
