Lewiston Morning Tribune.

The musical, based on a book by Jess Gregg and Robert Bridges and performed by the Missoula-based theatre troupe, present the West "the way we have come to believe it to have been — with a strong slug of fun and a shot of flatout wackiness," McCarthy added.

"Cowboy" is a fitting tribute to the life of America's great cowboy artist whose rise to fame and solid relationship with wife Nancy "Mamie" Cooper provide the basis for a highly entertaining production.

Opening with a scene that features Russell and his pals attempting to pawn paintings in order to head north to the last open range, the play quickly moves to the entry of Mamie Cooper into Russell's life. Upon Mamie's arrival, Russell soon is forced to choose between his two sidekicks and Mamie's love.

The choice is a difficult one, but Russell chooses to follow Mamie and her dreams, enabling the play to progress from the point where Russell is a "going-his career. But I often found myself wondering, 'If Charlie Russell and Mamie Cooper had never met, would the world have ever known the greatest of the western artists, Charles Marion Russell,'" mused Bridges.

'Russell's works have a warm feeling of storytelling around the campfire'

— Patricia Cusick

nowhere-quick" cowboy to an artist in the high society of New York City.

"There is little doubt that while Charlie's artistic brilliance was wholly his own, the young uneducated orphan he married was absolutely responsible for the brilliance of "Cowboy" plays at the Hult Center's Silva Concert Hall tomorrow at 8 p.m. Tickets are $10 and $8 for students and $14, $12 and $7.50 for the general public. Tickets can be purchased at the EMU Main Desk or by phoning the Hult Center at 687-5000.

ARE YOU THE EXCEPTION OR THE RULE?

Are you always the one digging deeper, working harder, and following through with projects long after the others have gone? If you are, and if you are interested in working with other exceptional people, then we would like you to apply for these openings.

The Oregon Daily Emerald Advertising Department currently has openings for Jr. Sales Representative positions. These positions will turn into sales positions next year (and possibly during summer) after intensive training in sales, marketing and general business procedures. The positions require use of a car (NO MOPEDS/BICYCLES), minimum one hour a day and, of course, unlimited enthusiasm and energy!

We have to be honest when we tell all those interested in applying for these jobs that the competition is tough. But, we always need qualified salespeople and now more than ever, experience on a daily morning paper will give you invaluable "real world" experience.
