Men's club soccer is off to a flying start this season, and goalie John Footman, a sophomore transfer from California, is a big reason why.

Men's soccer pulls together to win

By Geoff Guiger

To many, they aren't even a real team. They have no league. They hardly have any fans to speak of. On occasion, they're forced to give up their practice field to the Frisbee Football Team.

"We're scraping," said sophomore sweeper Skip Weintraub. "Sometimes we have to ref our own games."

Nonetheless, Oregon's Men's

Club Sports

Club Soccer Team has found a way to win.

After losing its opener 1-0 to the University of Portland on Oct. 4, the independent league team came away victorious in its next two contests. The first was a 4-0 victory over Southern Oregon last Sunday, followed by a 3-0 triumph on Tuesday over Central Oregon.

These wins came despite the fact that the group assembled barely three weeks ago. But under the circumstances, the players still insist they're developing a cohesiveness.

"I'd say this team is blending really well," said junior striker Sam Maccarrone. "Soccer is a game of team play and its important to know everybody on the team. I think we're doing a
