What do you think of the possibility that the Supreme Court may overturn the 1973 Roe vs. Wade decision that made abortion legal?

"It's very scary because I completely believe in free choice and women having control over their own bodies. Abortion has been legal in Europe for such a long time; this would definitely be a step back for this country."

Elfie Friedrichs, graduate, creative writing

"It's a real problem if it goes back to back alley abortions if women feel they need an abortion. People say abortion is taking a life, but look at the lives of a lot of kids that are born."

Kurt Ehrler, junior, international studies

"It's a mistake to reverse it. The last several years civil liberties have been eroded. Overturning this would be a tremendous step backwards in the fight. There is a struggle about how far government can encroach into people's personal lives."

Alan Gossett, senior, sociology

"The possibility makes me shudder. As a human being as a citizen of America, it's sad my rights could be controlled and because I'm a woman."

Linda Thiel, alumna, psychology

"Personally I think the Supreme Court won't take issue. They will take the minimum steps they can in dealing with the Missouri case. I don't think they will overturn the Roe vs. Wade decision. If they do then I think it's bad because it should be everyone's choice."

Justin McKenna, sophomore, political science
