

University

Photo by Andre Kanier

University students Molly Murphy and Susie Buersmeyer, who were turned down from classes they needed at registration, are prepared to withdraw from the University if they are unable to enroll in their courses.

Fall courses overflow

By Catherine Hawley
Emerald Reporter

The University is scrambling to accommodate frustrated students who are unable to sign up for classes they need to graduate.

Paul Holbo, vice-provost for academic affairs, said Tuesday that the English, speech, psychology, sociology and Romance language departments all are trying to place additional students into classes that were full, in some cases, before registration.

Holbo and other officials decided Tuesday afternoon to hire a visiting professor in the speech department for winter term to permit more students to take required courses this year.

"The speech department will now have to find someone qualified who is willing to come to the University winter and possibly spring term," Holbo said.

Turn to Fall, Page 15

KARATE

U of O KARATE CLUB

Instruction, Training,
Competition
New Students Welcome
No experience required

Practice Times
T, H Esslinger Rm. 47
Sat. Esslinger RM. 47
10am-12pm

SPONSORED BY CLUB SPORTS

686-3733

CDs and TAPES

Buy - Sell - Trade

Music Revolution

1217 Alder

Next to Sy's Pizza

Due to Care

DO YOU,
OR DOES SOMEONE YOU KNOW,
NEED HELP?

Help and support for drug and alcohol concerns is available on campus:

Counseling Center: 686-3227 Crisis Line: 686-4488
Student Health Center: 686-4441 Public Safety: 686-5444

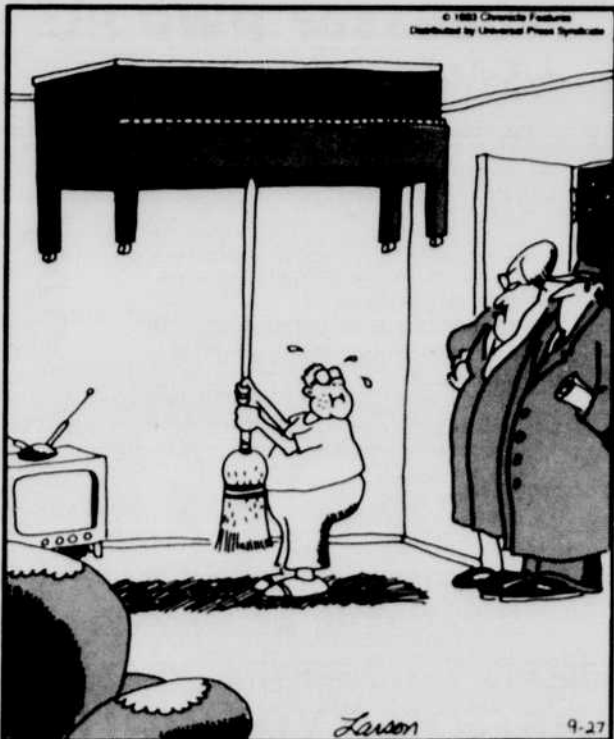

For more information, call Joanie Robertson, Training and Prevention
Coordinator, at 686-3105.

CO SAFE

Campus Organization for a Substance Abuse Free Environment

THE FAR SIDE

By GARY LARSON

"So, Billy! Seems your father and I can never leave without you getting yourself into some kind of trouble!"

The Complete Campus Computer Support Center

Introducing...

WordProcessing

Class Papers, Projects, Theses, Dissertations, Resumes

Desktop Publishing

Brochures, Flyers, Newsletters, Posters, Logos

Consulting

Hardware and Software featuring expert MicroSoft-trained Support

Tutoring

Macintosh and IBM

Other Services

PostScript and LaserJet/IBM Laser Printing, File Transfers/Conversion

492 E.13th, Suite 202. Tel: 686-8708