Saturday's win was anything but easy for the Ducks, as Terry Obee finds out.

the Wildcats within six at 13-7.

Musgrave's third interception was also especially costly as it cost the Ducks an excellent scoring opportunity.

Oregon had driven from its own 28 to the Arizona 5-yard line and appeared to be in position to score its second touchdown of the game when, on second-and-goal, Musgrave rolled right and threw the interception to Arizona safety Chris Wright in the end zone. Arizona ran out the clock and went to the lockerroom trailing 13-7.

Musgrave had thrown an interception to Hammerschmidt to start the quarter and another to Scott Geyer later in the quarter.

After a scoreless, uneventful third quarter, the Wildcats came out and made things scary for the Ducks.

Arizona began the fourth quarter by finishing a seven play, 38-yard drive that ended in a 40-yard Pfaff field goal that brought the Wildcats to within three at 13-10.

The Ducks then took the ensuing kickoff and appeared to be marching for the insurance score when Hargain fumbled after a reception from Musgrave on the Arizona 19. Arizona cornerback Darryl Lewis recovered the fumble.

Oregon had driven from its own 20 to the Arizona 22 on a fine inside run by Loville for 13
