Veneta principal suspects arson

VENETA (AP) — The principal at Veneta Elementary School said he suspects an arsonist touched off a weekend fire that destroyed eight classrooms in the east wing of the school.

"We have some eyewitnesses who told us the flames started at the southeast corner of the east wing," principal Ken Johnson said Monday. "Given the vandalism around there, I'd say that arson is a very strong possibility."

Les Wolfe, Fern Ridge School District superintendent, expressed a similar opinion.

"We are very suspicious that it was purposefully set," he said.

Classes were to resume on Thursday at the school.

Johnson said classes for the school's 320 pupils would be held at other schools in the district 15 miles west of Eugene. The five remaining classrooms at Veneta Elementary also may be used, he said.

The Sunday night fire broke out about 8 p.m. About 50 firefighters from area agencies had it under control about 11 p.m.

It was the third time in 20 years that the school had been hit by fire, and the building had been vandalized in the last few months, authorities said.

Classes were canceled Monday through Wednesday.

Firefighters from Veneta, Elmira, Noti, Crow Valley and Eugene battled the fire.

OCA gears for boycott

PORTLAND (AP) — An anti-abortion group seeking to limit abortions in Oregon has launched a campaign urging a boycott of a charity because it donates money to Planned Parenthood.

The Oregon Citizens Alliance is printing a half million newsletters it plans to deliver by mail and door-to-door to urge a boycott of United Way of the Columbia-Willamette.

The alliance claims in the newsletter that Planned Parenthood promotes abortion and "free sex" by offering sex education and school-based health clinics. The newsletter also compared Planned Parenthood's founder with Hitler.
