SPEAKERS AND LECTURES

"The Iconography of the Priestesses of Deified Emperors in the Julio-Claudian Period" is the title of a lecture to be given by Dr. Alastair Small from the University of Alberta tonight at 8 in Room 107 Lawrence Hall.

MISCELLANEOUS

A clothes drive for the Eugene Family Shelter House is being held by the Foreign Students Organization. Donations can be dropped by the FSO office in EMU Room 206, or at the group's table in the EMU today. Also needed are dishes, pots, pans, glasses, kitchen utensils, towels and sheets.

Election of officers for the Graduate Teaching Fellows Federation will be held at the following locations and times: at the union office, 870 E. 13th Ave., Dec. 4 to 8; in the PLC lobby, Dec. 7 from noon to 4 p.m.; and in EMU Cedar rooms A and B, Dec. 7 at 5:30 p.m.

Political science pre-registration for all political science majors will be today from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on the ninth floor of PLC. Professor's consent is required for some classes; all graduate students must have professor's consent.

An information meeting on summer studying in Mexico will be held today at 4:30 p.m. in Room 215 Allen Hall.

An information meeting about the Japan Exchange and Teaching Program will be held today from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the EMU Oak Room. Officials from the Japanese Consulate will describe the programs and the qualifications needed.

Deadline for submitting Et als to the Emerald front desk, EMU Suite 300, is noon the day before publication. Et als run the day of the event unless the event occurs before noon. Please submit Et als the day before they are to run only.

Notices of events with a donation or admission charge will not be accepted. Campus events and those scheduled nearest the publication date will be given priority. The Emerald reserves the right to edit notices for grammar and style.

Crafts highlight Christmas fair

The Cultural Forum and the Craft Center are sponsoring the annual EMU Christmas Craft Fair on Wednesday and Thursday.

The fair will be in the Fir Room of the EMU from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Admission is free.

The non-profit fair features the work of local artists who will be selling Christmas items and other handcrafted works.

Anne Schneider, Craft Center assistant director, said the event provides an opportunity for students to attend a small craft fair that is more personal than larger local craft fairs.

"What we're trying to do by bringing the fair to the campus is to provide something fun for students on campus before finals," Schneider said.

"We want to bring crafts on to campus so students don't have to go off campus to the larger craft fairs," she said.

Schneider said many of the same artisans from previous fairs are returning this year because they like the atmosphere of the small craft fair.

The fair will also feature entertainment by local artists such as the University Song and Dance Troupe and Eagle Park Slim. Santa Claus will appear Wednesday morning.

Free hot apple cider will be available at the fair.

Donations to benefit local family shelter

FSO clothing drive starting today

The Foreign Student Organization is sponsoring a clothing drive today to help protect Eugene homeless families from the upcoming cold season.

Donations of clothes and household items such as dishes, cooking utensils, towels and sheets will be accepted by the FSO at a table in the EMU lobby from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Items will also be accepted by the FSO in Room 206 of the EMU until Friday afternoon.

All donations will be given to the Family Shelter House, a non-profit homeless shelter located on Highway 99. The shelter is funded by United Way and Lane County.

Caroline Steele, FSO director, said the Family Shelter House was chosen because it is not a religious institution.

"The Family Shelter House isn't affiliated with any religion, which we found important because the FSO has so many diverse groups," Steele said.

Steele said the clothing drive is not primarily associated with the Christmas season.

"The Chinese and Muslims don't celebrate Christmas, but we felt it's our duty to help out in some way during the cold season," Steele said.

Steele said she hopes the FSO will sponsor a food drive next term.
Forests

dispute. "You can't create life and kill it at the same time," he said.

After an audience member shouted, "Impeach Hatfield now," Hermach said that somebody better could be found to run against him next year.

"The process is under way to cut more (timber) next year than in the (previous) history of the state. Not that I think ancient forest should be compromised," Wood said.
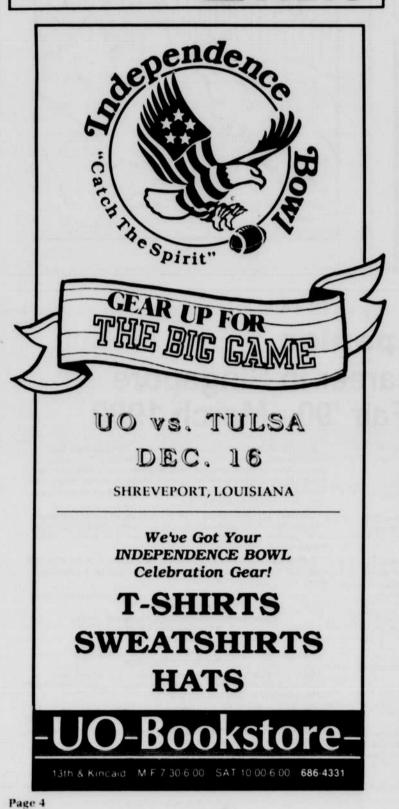

"There's enough for everyone's need, but not enough for everyone's greed," she added.

"The earth can exist fine without the human species, but not without forest — humans won't survive without forests," Wood said.

She vowed the environmental movement would fight nonviolently, and expressed the hope that at least as many people would show up to defend the forest as were at the rally, Wood said.

Wood also announced Earth First! has opened an office at the Grower's Market building, 454 Willamette St.
