

Men's tennis drops close match with Portland

The University of Portland beat the Oregon men's tennis team 5-3 Wednesday in Portland, dropping the Ducks' record to 2-10 on the season.

Pilot Mike Malin beat Oregon's No. 1 man Kevin Cory 6-7, 6-3, 6-4 in a two-and-a-half hour match to give Portland the lead at 1-0. Oregon's Ted Rubin evened things for the Ducks by taking a 6-3, 6-4 straight-sets win over Ned Hastings.

"I thought Ted Rubin did a great job," Oregon coach Buzz Summers said. "He beat Ned Hastings, someone he's never beat before."

Portland then took the next three matches to take a 4-1 lead in the meet. Jon Weinberg of Oregon lost to Portland's Grant Knauss in a tough 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 match, followed by Pilot Rob Weber's 6-4, 6-2 win over Kevin Settlemyer.

Portland's Andrew Cosgrove gave Portland a 4-1 lead with a win over Rob Atkin by a 6-4, 3-6, 6-2 score.

Christian Oelke, filling in for the injured James Hazard, won in the sixth flight, 6-7, 7-6, 6-4 over Mike Blevins of Portland.

Cory sat out doubles play with a calf injury sustained in singles play. That helped give the Pilots an advantage in doubles matches, which they split with the Ducks. Malin and Dnauss beat Oregon's team of Rubin and Weinberg 6-3, 6-7, 7-6 followed by an Oregon win by Settlemyer and Atkin over Hastings and Dave Davis of Portland.

"We had a couple of match points in our first doubles match," Summers said. "But we lost them. That was the highlight of the match."

Summers was pleased with the play of Settlemyer and Atkin, who stepped in at No. 2 doubles because of injuries to Oregon's regulars.

Oregon hosts Washington Saturday at 10 a.m. Washington will be one of the toughest matches of the year for the Ducks.

"They are very good. Washington is the best in the Northwest," Summers said.

Summers is not sure if Cory and Hazard will be ready to play because of injuries. If not, the freshman will have to step in again.

"They'll have to do it," he said. "Their effort is outstanding."
