minutes for the Ducks. Eble played 17 minutes but was held scoreless shooting 0-4 from three-point range.

In the first half of the contest, Arizona grabbed a 27-20 lead with seven minutes remaining until the break. The Ducks fought back behind the play of Wallenborn and evened the score at 30-30 with 4:12 to go in the half.

Three treys by forward Regina Grennan rounded out the Wildcats' scoring, while forward Trina McCartney added the last two buckets for Oregon. The half ended in a 39-39 deadlock.

Grennan accounted for 20 of the Wildcats' points while playing all 40 minutes.

As a team, the Wildcats shot 35-66 (53 percent), and were 5-8 from the free throw line (62.5 percent).

"They did a great job of shooting," Heiny said. "Three players were just shooting amazingly, and then even the post player (Meyer) decided to shoot outside. (Meyer) too shot well. They did a great job."

Oregon shot 32 of 71 (45.1 percent), while being successful in eight of 11 free throw attempts (72.7 percent).

Oregon, 17-10 overall, has virtually no shot at the NCAA tournament. There is still an outside chance of an National
