Brantley and Joe Farwell, who started in the inside as a redshirt freshman last season, lead the way, followed by sophomore Andy Conner who split time at outside linebacker with Bjarne Jensen and will also be tried at inside linebacker this spring.

Brantley had 10½ sacks last year and lined up at defensive end in the Ducks "Hawk" pass defense.

"He's obviously one of our premier players on defense," Brooks said of Brantley. "He's fairly productive ... and solid all across."

Brooks wants to move Conner inside so "we can use him more in the middle in our five and six defensive back packages."

With six linebackers redshirted last season, and others such as James Bautista, Doug Douglass, Eric Dozier and Rob Heckman, Brooks "really likes" the linebacking depth.

Things aren't as secure in the secondary where the only returning starter is junior strong safety Rory Dairy.

Dairy finished fifth on the team in tackles in 1989 and was extremely tough against the run. Steve Kemp and Eric Castle, a junior and redshirt freshman, respectively, came on late in the season and played well at safety.

At cornerback, Daryl Singleton and Johnny Taylor, juniors last season and Paul Rodriguez, a redshirt freshman last season, look to contend for the starting corner jobs. The junior college transfers who are now in school at Oregon — Devon Hosey, Muhammad Oliver and Kenny Defensive end Matt LaBounty, who had 5½ quarterback sacks last season, is the only returning starter on the defensive line.

Phillips — will also vie for playing time.

Only sophomore defensive end Matt LaBounty, who had 5½ sacks, returns as a starter on the defensive line.

Sophomore Marcus Woods, who played well backing up Cusano last season, will likely start at nose tackle, but needs to stay healthy and develop some consistency, Brooks said.

"He has a lot of talent, but needs to do it everyday," Brooks said. "Cusano was a guy who was a big performer for two years and showed up day-in and day-out which is what Marcus needs to do."

Jeff Allen and Pat DeLeon, who both played as redshirt freshman last season are in the running for the other defensive end spot as are Romeo Bandison, who was redshirted as a true freshman last season and JC transfers Jeff Cummins and Joe Baguio.

Gregg McCallum, who set school records for points and field goals will again be the kicker while Ben Rough and Liam Hayes will battle for the punting job.
