

Car Of The Year.

They say it's not whether you win or lose but how you play the game. We agree.

Of course, there's nothing wrong with winning. Especially when it's the imposing looking Nissan GTP ZX-Turbo in the picture, winning the 1989 IMSA Camel GTP Manufacturers Championship against competition like Porsche and Jaguar.

Or the Nissan Hardbody Racetruck winning the 1989 SCCA Race-truck Challenge Manufacturers Championship against competition like Ford and Jeep. But checkered flags aside, we race because we're dedicated to all-out performance.

In every car we put our name on.

Built for the Human Race.
