Expanding your choice of power.

Announcing the Macintosh IIfx.
Now you have more ways to exercise your power of choice. Because we just expanded your choice of powerful Macintosh® computers.
Introducing the Macintosh IIfx. At 40 megahertz, it's the fastest Macintosh ever. Its amazing speed makes every Macintosh application work more quickly and efficiently. Which makes productivity soar to new levels.
What's more, its remarkable power and enhanced responsiveness open the door to an entire new world of sophisticated applications. Like CAD, CAE, or real-time animation. And with six NuBus™ slots, you have plenty of room for expansion.
Of course, all modular Macintosh computer systems are designed to grow along with your needs—from the flexible Macintosh IIcx, to the versatile Macintosh IIx, to the mighty Macintosh IIci. So you can start with the level of power you need now. And add extra memory, peripherals, and communications cards as you need them.
However, one thing comes standard with every Macintosh: the legendary Macintosh ease of use. Just point and click, and you'll take full advantage of thousands of Macintosh applications. That all work in the same, graphically intuitive way.
