Oregon signs Benson Tech star

By Ashley Conklin
Emerald Sports Reporter

Oregon's basketball team signed two top-quality recruits to national letters of intent Wednesday, Oregon basketball coach Don Monson announced.

Orlando Williams, named Oregon's Class AAA Player of the Year by The Oregonian, and Clyde Jordan, from West Covina, Calif., will join four other recruits on the Duck roster next year. Both Williams and Jordan were named to the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West list this year.

Williams is the third straight Oregon player of the year to join the Ducks. Aaron Johnson of Beaverton's Aloha High School (1989) and Terrell Brandon of Portland's Grant High School (1988) also came to Oregon after being players of the year.

Williams led Portland's Benson High School to the AAA state championship last season.

averaging 26.3 points per game and leading the Portland Interscholastic League in scoring. A 6-foot-2, 195-pound guard, Williams hit 41 three-pointers and shot 47.0 percent from the floor and 88.5 percent from the free throw line.

Williams was also an all-PIL selection in 1990 and was a School to the Sierra Vista League title with a 13-1 league mark and an overall record of 19-7. Jordan averaged 17 points, eight rebounds, five assists and four steals per game. He was an all-league selection, was named to the San Gabriel Valley Tournament team and was also nominated for the unanimous all-state tournament selection for Benson. In his final two seasons, Williams scored 1,171 points for an average of 23.4 per game.

"We're quite pleased we were able to sign the player of the year in Oregon," Monson said. "Orlando will be a great addition to the program. He is a multi-dimensional player who played inside but is capable of playing the perimeter.

"He is an excellent student who we feel will get better and possibly help us immediately next year," Monson added.

Jordan, a 6-6, 175-pound guard/forward, could be a big addition for the Ducks who need to replace graduating senior Keith Reynolds, the team's second-leading scorer last season.

Playing guard last season, Jordan led West Covina High McDonald's high school all-American list.

"Jordan is a perimeter player who played guard for his high school team," Monson said. "He is comfortable playing either inside or outside with very good skills, whether shooting it, handling it or distributing it."

The other four Duck recruits all signed during the early fall signing period.

In-state players Matt O'Neil of Eugene's Churchill High School and Jordy Lyden of Beaverton High signed last fall. O'Neil is a 6-9 forward/center and Lyden a 6-6 guard/forward.

Eric Vander Veen, a 6-9 forward/center from Amsterdam, The Netherlands also signed as did John McFarland, a 6-6 swing player from St. Monica Catholic High School in Santa Monica, Calif.
