The biggest surprise was in the 5,000, where the Golden Bears' Calvin Gaziano won in a time of 14:13.1 to beat Oregon's Terrance Mahon (14:13.9) and Brad Hudson (14:21.3). Mahon's time was a personal record, and Oregon's Steve Richards, despite finishing a non-scoring fourth, also set a PR with a time of 14:32.6.

Dellinger said he wasn't happy losing the 800, 1,500 and 5,000, but said he had to give credit to Cal for coming up with some good performances.

"I don't like losing the 5,000, but their kid Gaziano ran a tough, gutsy race," Dellinger said. "I was disappointed that Brad couldn't respond to the competition."

In the 1,500, Cal's Reggie Williams won the race in 3:49.13, but Dellinger said the race would have been a close one between Williams and Oregon's Danny Lopez had Lopez not been "caught off-guard and fallen down" in the race. Lopez finished a non-scoring fourth.

Still, the Ducks were able to persevere thanks to sweeps in other events.

Javelin thrower Art Skipper, who had set new school records the last two weeks, won

Ducks beat Viks twice

Julie Cavanaugh singled to right field to score Anna Poore in the 10th inning Saturday to give Oregon's softball team a 4-3 win over Portland State and a doubleheader sweep of the Vikings at Howe Field.

Oregon took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Poore scored on a PSU error.

Kelly Finley and Kristl Okuhara each scored in the fourth inning on RBIs by Cavanaugh and Jeanna King before Portland State tied it with three runs on six hits in the sixth inning.

Neither team could score in three extra innings, so the international softball rule was put into effect. The rule allows teams to place a runner on second base with no outs.

Oregon retired Portland State and put Poore on second. Kelly Finley drew a walk and Okuhara got a base hit to set up Cavanaugh's game-winning RBI.

Pitcher Katie Wiese got her ninth shutout of the season in the first game as the Ducks scored three runs in the fifth inning to take a 3-0 decision.

Oregon was scheduled to meet no. 1 ranked UCLA Sunday, but the conference double header was rained out.

easily with a toss of 237-11. The mark was more than eight feet off his best of 246-5, but was still a meet record by more than 12 feet. Teammate Eric Wick grabbed second with a PR throw of 206-3.

Brian Cullen had his best outing in three weeks in the pole vault, winning the event by scaling 16-10 1/2. Oregon's Ben Benson also cleared the same height in finishing second, a PR by six inches.

In the 110 high hurdles, Bob Gray, Brian Wright and Pedro daSilva sped to another Duck sweep. Gray won the event in 14.43 while Wright edged out daSilva for second.

Oregon also received the expected 1-2 finish in the steeplechase from Rick Mestler and Tye Van Schoiack and a clutch 1-2 performance in the hammer from Scott McGee and Nick Anastasiades.

Mestler and Van Schoiack clocked 9:10.5 and 9:15.1, respectively in the steeple while McGee tossed the hammer 210-11 and Anastasiades was second with a 182-3 toss. Anastasiades also picked up a big third place in the discus with a PR throw of 171-8.

Although the Ducks won the meet, three Golden Bears turned in the meet's top marks.

Jeff Rogers won the high jump for the Golden Bears with a new meet record of 7-4 1/2 and just missed clearing 7-5 1/2.

Teammate Mike Harris, last year's Pac-10 champ in the triple jump, sailed to a wind-aided best of 55-2 1/2 and also had a legal best of 54-1 1/2 to eclipse the old meet record by exactly one foot.

Sprinter Atlee Mahorn, who competed in the 1988 Olympics for his native Canada, won both the 100 and 200-meter dashes. Mahorn sped to a 10.1 wind-aided clocking in the 100 and topped the field in the 200 in 20.6.
