◆ STATEMENTS ◆ BY ◆ THE ◆ CANDIDATES ◆

SOPHOMORE POSITION ◆ TWO YEAR TERM ◆ TWO TO BE ELECTED

RUPESH SHAH

Some people are probably saying to themselves, "Oh no, another candidate running for sophomore position. Why does he think he's better than the rest?" Well I have an answer to this. I feel the experience I have gained in my last two years at this school will allow me to do my best in the sophomore position.

If you're asking what kind of experience I have, I'll tell you. Currently I am an R.A. Last year I represented my housing complex on the Residence Hall Governance Committee and was the president of my dorm. For both of the years, I have been on the Springfest Planning Committee.

In this position I will be representing you on the board of directors. In my opinion, that means airing issues which you feel are important and bringing in your opinions.

If you are looking for a person who is energetic, creative, and has initiative to do the best that is possible, I'm right here.

BRODY KUNZ

I am running for the Bookstore Board of Directors with aspirations of furthering Bookstore speed and convenience while maintaining customer trust and satisfaction. I am a sophomore majoring in Business and Japanese, and I believe I can strongly represent the University students on the Bookstore Board.

Many people do not realize that we students are the owners and directors of the Bookstore. We have the power and the right to create and maintain a Bookstore that is responsive to students. If we want certain products to be available, or if we want shorter lines during peak periods, these desires should and will be met. This is the type of thinking which has given the Bookstore the 11% student discount, the guarantee book program, and the four new $1000 scholarships. This is the type of thinking which has made our Bookstore one of the best in the nation and this is the type of thinking which I intend to foster.

I am committed to a convenient and efficient Bookstore that responds quickly and effectively to student needs and desires. Vote Brody Kunz for U. of O. Bookstore Board of Directors.

PUNEH MOASSER

"POOH" as in Winnie the Pooh, "NAY" as in what a horse says, "MOW" your lawn, "AWE", and "SIR". Puneh Moasser is the name. And she's lookin' to garner your vote. Puneh Moasser is running for the University Bookstore Board of Directors, sophomore seat.

Puneh is dedicated, knowledgeable, and loves the hands-on, one-hundred percent involved experience. She will enter her position with unclouded yet focused eyes which can competently perceive ways of increasing efficiency. She has many questions and even more solutions.

A "prorated" used book system is her main goal. A "prorated" used book system means used books are fairly priced at different cost levels. Used books that aren't written in would resale at top used book prices. Used books that are screaming, "don't turn another page" would resale at a lower price.

Puneh wishes to be accessible to you. At least once a month, she will have time set aside so anyone can come complain about and suggest ideas for our bookstore; also, come learn what the Board is currently focusing on.

Let's vote for PUNEH MOASSER, University of Oregon Bookstore Board of Directors, sophomore seat. An unusual name of a unique person making change for students.

BETHANY STRASBURG

Did you know that everyone attending or working at the University is a Bookstore member? I would like to be responsible to all of you by being an informed and responsible member on the Bookstore Board of Directors.

I have the leadership experience in working with active organizations and being a diplomatic liaison between staff and students. I am currently on ASPAC, the President's Advisory Committee, the vice president of the Presidential Scholarship Association, and a Board of Directors member of Student Projects Inc. I am involved with many other groups ranging from the Honors College to the Greek system, and this involvement gives me access to the views and concerns of members. I would be responsive to all Bookstore members by listening to their ideas about what they would like.

I want to be involved and serve all members by working with their ideas, along with my own long-range plans for the Bookstore. Some of mine entail: helping to solve the problems with crowding, and being able to supply more books.

I know I can make a difference, for I am a dedicated hard worker, and an effective communicator with much experience.

For sophomore position on the Bookstore Board of Directors, please vote for Bethany Strasburg. Thank you.

SHANNON KAY

Let's face it. We are all, by necessity, customers of the Bookstore. What you may not realize is that you have a great deal of influence in its operations. I'm Shannon Kay. As a board member, I want to be directly involved in communicating your needs and concerns about the Bookstore's services.

In this position, I would represent you in issues pertaining to fair pricing, inventory selection, and store expansion; furthermore, I will do my best to be responsive to your needs on a daily basis and especially during the chaotic times at the beginning and end of each term.

As a business major and experienced leader, I am driven by hard work and goal attainment. I'm confident in my dedication, motivation, and communication skills—the essential elements for achieving positive results for the Bookstore and for you.

I'm optimistic about the future of the Bookstore, and the potential benefits it has to offer. I am committed to representing the diversified UO population and your continuously changing needs and interests.

The bookstore is yours. You have a right to influence its operations. Vote SHANNON KAY and take advantage of your potential to make a difference. It's the difference that will benefit you.

FACULTY-AT-LARGE ◆ TWO YEAR TERM ◆ ONE TO BE ELECTED

FRANCES MILLER

I have four main goals if I am elected to the University of Oregon Bookstore Board of Directors. 1. The board of directors needs to ensure that the compensation package for the bookstore personnel is competitive. I think the University of Oregon bookstore is well run. Good salaries and fringe benefits can help to continue to attract and keep people who can provide the best services for bookstore members. 2. The board should initiate programs that will help to protect the environment; for example, the bookstore ought to encourage textbook publishers to use unbleached paper. 3. Upon entering the bookstore one feels crowded. The current board has increased the space available to the bookstore. The new board should continue to explore suggestions for using the space most efficiently so merchandise can be displayed and marketed in the best way. 4. I will work to provide the best discounts and services to all members of the bookstore (students, faculty, and staff). Qualifications: I have good communication and supervisory skills, and as an information analyst at the Career Information System I have considerable experience analyzing occupational and market data.

STUDENT-AT-LARGE ◆ TWO YEAR TERM ◆ ONE TO BE ELECTED

CRAIG WYMETALEK

The function of the University of Oregon Bookstore Board of Directors is to create policies to improve the Bookstore's ability to serve its membership: the student body. Policies that effect the membership should originate from the membership, not from disinterested parties. Thus it is the duty of those who create policy, the members of the Board of Directors, to seek out ideas from those who are affected by policy, the general membership, to ensure that the policies are desired and just. As a candidate for the Student at Large position on the Board of Directors, I feel that I can go to you, the membership of the Bookstore, and get the information.

I need to represent your views and opinions. It is crucial to the efficient and productive management of the Bookstore, that the policies of the Bookstore reflect the wishes of the membership. The Bookstore exists to facilitate the needs of the students of the University of Oregon, and if I am elected Student at Large, I will do my utmost to see that the Bookstore serves its function as efficiently and effectively as possible. It is your Bookstore, make sure you have a say in how it is run.

SCOTT DUNLAP

In the next year, I would like to see two improvements made at the Bookstore—to speed up the book buying process and to make the Bookstore more environmentally conscious. The Bookstore is currently looking into purchasing a large mainframe computer that would greatly increase the efficiency of the book department, especially during the beginning of the term. If elected, I would help in getting this system in ASAP, and with feedback from the students, take further steps in restructuring to make book buying as easy as possible.

My biggest concern with the Bookstore is its missed potential to be more environmentally conscious. It is in a unique position to make a much needed statement about concern for the environment. Not only could it approach recycling and stocking natural materials at the Bookstore, but it could go much farther with outside programs funded by them. One short year could bring huge developments for the university community if done properly.

I am not power hungry. I am not just putting another rung in my climb up the political ladder, like some candidates. I am simply a concerned student with ideas for improvement and the energy to make them work.

JEFFERSON DAVIS SPENCER

How can you not vote for a chess playing, Sly & the Family Stone loving, non-proliferation supporting, rock climbing candidate? Don't vote for me. During the past term, I was published in Timberline (UO Literary Society), a panel member for Leadership Total Vision (Leadership seminar), and had some of my footage on two local television stations (of Nevada Protest). I say this not because I am an egotistical dupe—well, that's for you to decide—but to show my commitment to the active groups and individuals of our university community. With the student-at-large position I hope to provide a voice for any whisper in my ear. Let your tongue wag. I want to hear and help your concerns. That's about as much of the political rhetoric I can spew. I am everyday people.

SCOTT MARESH

By holding the student-at-large position on the U. of O. Bookstore Board, I hope, of course, to serve the constituents of the Bookstore. The Bookstore must be responsible to the students, faculty, and staff who constitute its owners and its primary customers, and as a member of the Board I will be committed to seeking out and entertaining comments relevant to the improvement of the corporation. Moreover, I assure the university community that all legitimate concerns be given ample attention by the Board.

I am the best person for the student-at-large seat because my loyalties will lie with the whole of the University community. Past experience in university housing government and my present role on Area Standards Board are testimony to my communication and logic skills—skills which will allow me to both seek out the needs and desires of the constituency and to determine the actions best reflecting the diverse needs of the body. Moreover, a high level of commitment, responsibility, and a professional attitude mean that the needs of the Bookstore and its customers will be an obligation which I will consistently and eagerly meet.

I hope to serve you with integrity.

GRADUATE ◆ TWO YEAR TERM ◆ ONE TO BE ELECTED

JEFF BAUM

Hi, my name is Jeff Baum. Did you know that our Bookstore is a nonprofit corporation operated exclusively for your educational needs as well as charitable purposes. Furthermore, its sales are almost ten million dollars and it ranks among the finest of all major university bookstores. Do you also know why it provides us with one of the highest discounts in the country along with superior service and a wide array of products? It is because the bookstore is managed and operated by you, its members; namely the students, faculty and staff of the University of Oregon.

As a member of the Board of Directors, I hope to assist the Bookstore in continuing to fulfill your needs. I will do so by being available to you and your valuable input and make sure that your concerns are voiced to the board. My experience as a student at the school of law and the graduate school of management provides me the ability to approach difficult issues with reason and sound analysis while always being responsive to your needs. Furthermore, my interest in the board is stimulated by the opportunity to participate in a productive and positive part of the university community.

CLASSIFIED/MANAGEMENT SERVICE POSITION ◆ TWO YEAR TERM ◆ ONE TO BE ELECTED

LAVERNE NORMAN

My name is LaVerne Norman. I am a candidate for the classified staff position on the UO Bookstore Board of Directors. I have been a member of the University community for a number of years, first as a student, then as a receptionist/secretary in both the Physical Plant and currently in the History Department. Now, I would like to give something back.

One of my job responsibilities in the History Department requires me to order textbooks from the UO Bookstore; therefore, I have become familiar with the relationship between the UO Bookstore, book publishing companies, and other used book stores. My long-term involvement with the University, my identity as an African American woman, and my sensitivity towards ethnic and gender issues, would enable me to bring a unique and valuable perspective to the UO Bookstore Board of Directors.

As an instrumental Board Member I will represent your interests and continue to make our UO bookstore even more exciting and diverse. You can count on me to be accessible and an approachable liaison between the community and the bookstore. With your vote and both my energy and enthusiasm, we can make difference. Thank You.
