'Rockappella' quartet to perform

The Tones, an a cappella singing group, is made up of four professional musicians with a combined total of more than 50 years of performing experience. They have shared the stage with such stars as Chuck Berry, The Persuasions and The Kingsmen.

Tenor Pablo Dr. Paul Friedlander, who teaches music classes at the University, began vocalizing as a member of The Chapters on the streets of New York City. He has played folk music with Pete Seeger, blues with Charlie Musselwhite and rock and roll from coast to coast.

Tenor William "Wild Bill" Chilla is a classically trained vocalist who has performed opera, musical theater, jazz, folk and rock music from Washington to California.

Sub-sonic bass vocalist S.

Lea "Leroy" Jones is a country and rock and roll music veteran. His artistry extends to the business world, where his alter-ego creates and records jingles and commercials.

Alto Lynda Duffy provides the group with singing virtuosity and experience in drama, musical theater, studio recording and jazz. She has also made numerous jingles and voice-overs for radio and television commercials.
