

Good looks can take you a long way.

This is one hot tomato. Sleek. And sexy. The CRX HF will knock you out. But, there's more beneath the surface. This Honda is one of the highest mileage cars in America. Tempting an impressive EPA-estimated 49 miles out of a single gallon in the city and 52 on the highway. Under the hood, an ambitious fuel-injected engine takes you anywhere you want to go. To save even more money the upshift light gently reminds you when to change gears. A 4-wheel double wishbone suspension system handles the road. Beautifully. So you're always sitting pretty. Inside, it's enticing. With a surprising amount of room. Legroom. Headroom. And a center console tilted toward the driver keeps everything within reach.

So spend some time with this baby. And see just how far it can go.

HONDA
The CRX HF

*Use for comparison only; actual mileage may vary. California mileage estimates are lower.