Inside linebackers James Bautista (45) and Joe Farwell (51) were two of the big reasons why Brigham Young running backs like Stacey Corley (21) went nowhere on the ground.

BYU Continued from Page 16

"I thought we played well enough defensively to win the game, but we just didn't execute our offense."

With the sellout Autzen Stadium crowd getting nervous, BYU drove 21 yards in six plays and collected a field goal to pull within two, 12-10.

Then the defense collapsed. Oregon scored on three straight possessions to go up 32-10, and with the Duck defense holding strong, Detmer could only connect for a few long plays - one of them a 69-yard touchdown pass to Micah Matsuzaki with 11:56 left in the fourth quarter.

Despite the loss, and the reality that a national championship is far out of reach, the Cougars were not devastated emotionally.

"We are not going to hang our heads about this," Smith said. "We still have to win the WAC (Western Athletic Conference), and we have to go undefeated from here on out."

Detmer agreed that the Cougars must maintain their priorities after the loss to the Ducks.

"Our first goal is to win the WAC, and this wasn't a conference game," he said. "I'm sure we will bounce back from this one and get on with the rest of the year."
