Three Ducks chosen for awards

By Ashley Conklin
Emerald Sports Editor

Three Oregon football players have been honored this week for their play on the field and their performance in the classroom.

Cornerback Daryle Smith has been honored with two defensive awards following Oregon's 32-16 victory over Brigham Young last Saturday while quarterback Bill Musgrave has been chosen as one publication's college player of the week and offensive guard Bud Bowie has garnered an academic award.

Smith intercepted three of BYU quarterback Ty Detmer's passes to spark the Ducks' victory and also broke up four more passes. On Monday, Smith was chosen as Pacific-10 Conference defensive player of the week, and on Wednesday Sports Illustrated announced that it chose Smith as its defensive player of the week.

Smith, a junior from Los Angeles, redshirted last season after transferring from Los Angeles Valley Junior College. He stepped into the right cornerback position after Daryl Reed used up his eligibility last season. Smith currently leads the team and is tied for the Pac-10 lead with four interceptions.

He also is tied for third nationally in interceptions.

He is the third Duck to be picked for a Pac-10 award in the last four weeks. Musgrave was the conference offensive player of the week after Oregon beat San Diego State, and Michael McClellan was special teams player of the week following the Idaho game.

Musgrave was chosen by Football News as its college player of the week for his performance against BYU.

The senior from Grand Junction, Colo., completed 23 of 37 passes for 286 yards and three touchdowns. He also ran for one touchdown and led the Ducks on three long touchdown drives after the Cougars pulled within 12-10 early in the third quarter.

Musgrave also surpassed Chris Miller's school record for most career passing yardage during the game. Musgrave has now thrown for 6,816 yards in his career and has either broken every school passing and total offense record in the books or will before the end of this season.

Away from the field, Bowie is Oregon's third recipient of the Honda Scholar Athlete of the Week award, chosen by ABC-TV.

Bowie is a junior from Central Point who attended North Medford High School. Bowie saw little playing time as a freshman and sophomore, but he has started at right guard for the Ducks in all four of their games this season. Bowie has a 3.64 grade point average in biology.

The Honda Scholar Athlete of the Week program is in its third year and has honored former Duck linebacker Scott Kozak and last year chose Musgrave for the honor. Each week during the college season, ABC-TV chooses either a player from the Pac-10 or Big-10 Conference for the award.
