Women triumph in invitational

The 11th-ranked Oregon women's cross country team came back from a two-week layoff to easily win the Minnesota/GBS Invitational Saturday in Minneapolis, Minn.

The Ducks had been off since Sept. 22 when they won the Emerald City Invitational in Seattle, but Oregon showed no ill effects from the layoff, placing their top five runners in the meet's top 14 finishers.

Just like in Seattle, Oregon's Liz Wilson and Stephanie Wessell finished 1-2, respectively, to lead the Duck onslaught against some of the nation's best teams.

Wilson completed the 5,000-meter course in 17:18 to finish eight seconds ahead of Wessell, who was timed in 17:26.

Sophomore Nicole Woodward led the second pack of Duck runners with a 17:50 clocking and sixth-place performance while Lucy Nusrala was 10th in 17:59.

Rounding out the Oregon scoring was Carol Holmen in 14th place (18:11).
