Hokey-Dokey

I assume from your lack of coverage on the issues pertaining to the ancient forests that everything is hokey-dokey.

No more ancient trees are being cut and there are no more clearcuts being made.

I guess the Ancient Forest Protection Act has been passed and people like DeFazio are done blocking it.

Well I sure am glad we've all come to our senses and we no longer have to worry about the mindless waste of a non-replaceable eco-system.

Could not see

We wish to express our displeasure concerning our tickets to the recent Duck-Husky football game.

We purchased two tickets through the University Alumni Association for $42. You could neither see the field nor the players from our second row seat. The University marching band was seated directly in front of on us the track.

Many ticket holders (probably several hundred) had the same problem. We spent the entire game milling around in the stands trying to find a vantage point from which to view the game. We were not allowed to stand in the tunnels.

When one purchases a ticket to a performance or sporting event, one expects to be able to see what's going on. In this case we would have been better off to have stayed home and listened to the game on the radio. Also, we would have been $42 ahead.

In our opinion this was a blatant case of misrepresentation and we demand a refund of $42.

Respect space

I applaud Enna Dole's letter (ODE, Oct. 16) on respecting women's space. Unlike her letter, mine is addressed primarily to women.

All the harassment on and around campus must stop.

Men we don't know call us to threaten or scare us. Men we don't know treat us like objects and embarrass us without even realizing it.

Men we are taught to trust abuse their authority by humiliating or touching us in ways we know are wrong; yet we let it go on. In defeat we overlook it as abuse, blame it on ourselves and lock it up inside.

I'm not only speaking of rape or incest. I'm also speaking of the stares and whistles on the street, the obscene callers, the over-friendly doctors, the beer ads, the strip bars (Great Alaska Bush Company? Come on, girls, what is this saying?), or the man who masturbates by your car after assaulting you (ODE, Police Beat, Oct. 16).

It happens everyday. It's not your imagination and it's not your fault.

During the first two weeks of school 15 rapes were reported to the Rape Crisis Center. Ask yourself why this goes on. Then ask yourself what you can do about it.

Report it, complain about it and bond together. It is the only way we will be free.
