

In Touch with the Recreation Center and publicizing and organizing each tournament.

Pedersen said the employees learn a lot about organizing and "will use those skills when they get out of school."

Campus-wide tournaments also search for representatives for the Association of College Unions-International ACU-I Region 14 tournament. Competitors in the various contests try for a chance to compete regionally and then nationally.

The Rec Center has recently added to its list of services a new air hockey table. Currently Pedersen is looking for funds to redesign and bring the eight-lane bowling alley "into the twenty-first century."

Pedersen said the billiards room is one of the finest in the area. Here the Rec Center provides 12 standard 4½-foot-by-9-foot pool tables and two 5-by-10 snooker tables.

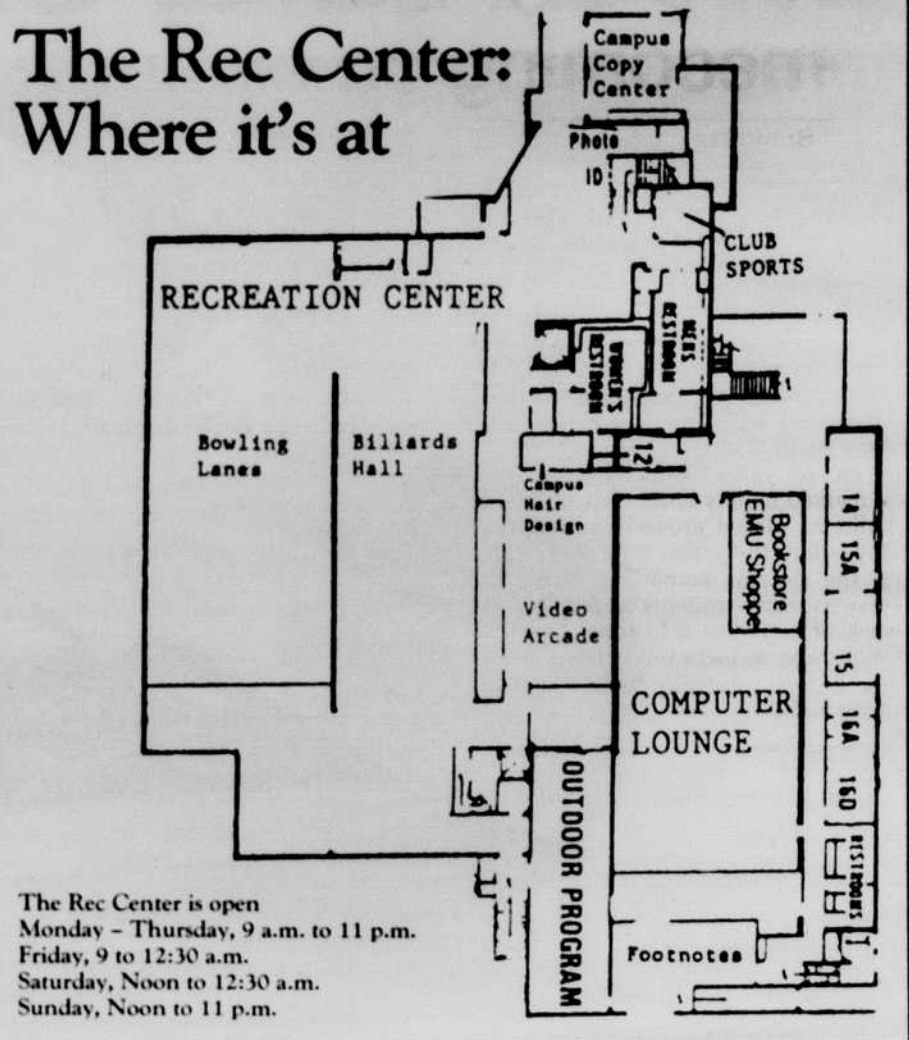

The Rec Center has a list of rules for snooker for anyone wanting to learn, and Pedersen said the billiards room is "a good avenue for cross-cultural experiences," as a lot of international students know the same billiards games.

To add to the atmosphere of the games, music and sports videos are shown on a color television in the billiards room. Sporting events, special news broadcasts and music videos are often shown.

"We work hard to make it (the Rec Center) a fun place," Pedersen said. "It gets better every year."
