Fullback Ngalu Kelemeni bursts through a hole into the end zone to give the Ducks their first touchdown of the game and cut the UCLA lead to 10-7.

Ducks come back for 28-24 win

Vince Ferry didn't figure to be in a position to catch the game-winning touchdown pass from Bill Musgrave.

Coming into Saturday's game with UCLA at Autzen Stadium, Ferry had caught only two passes all season as Oregon's back-up tight end because of a cast on his left hand to protect a broken thumb joint he suffered against San Diego State in the season-opener.

But when starting tight end Jeff Thomason went down with a broken left ankle in the second quarter, Ferry was forced into playing, and without the cast for the first time since the San Diego State game. And no one made a bigger play than Ferry when he caught Musgrave's touchdown pass with 2:01 remaining as Oregon rallied from a 24-13 deficit to a 28-24 win. "It's the biggest catch in my whole life," Ferry said. "Bill just threw a perfect pass, right on the money." Ferry admitted he was a little nervous when the play came in from the sideline for Musgrave to go to him. "I can't lie, I was a little bit (nervous)," he said. "It was a big confidence booster, and I think it will help me out for games to go." The play the Ducks used to get the game-winning score was a bit of a surprise also. It was a play that Oregon Coach Rich Brooks put in earlier in the week where Musgrave fakes a screen pass to tailback Sean Burwell and then looks for the tight end. The Ducks had used the
