Two Ducks named all-Pac-10

Oregon quarterback Bill Musgrave and outside linebacker Peter Brantley, both seniors, were named to the first team all-Pacific-10 Conference football team last week.

Musgrave, from Grand Junction, Colo., led the Ducks to a 7-2 record in games he started and finished this season as Oregon finished 8-3 overall, its first eight-win regular season since 1959.

The Ducks also finished third in the Pac-10 with a 4-3 conference record. Musgrave was one of the major reasons for the Ducks' success. He completed 173 of 301 passes for 2,219 yards, 14 touchdowns and 12 interceptions.

Musgrave is fifth on the all-time Pac-10 list for passing yardage and sixth in total offense. His 57 career touchdown passes are second only to Stanford's John Elway in Pac-10 history.

Brantley, from Irvine, Calif., was one of the many standouts on the Oregon defense this season. He finished with 43 tackles, two quarterback sacks and caused three fumbles.

As a unit, Oregon's defense finished third in running, pass and total defense in the Pac-10 and was second in scoring defense, allowing only 17.2 points per contest, the fewest in Coach Rich Brooks' 14 years at the helm.

Six other Ducks made the second team and six more received honorable mention recognition.

Juniors Jeff Thomason (tight end) and Gregg McCallum (kicker) both made the second team offense.

Thomason had 30 receptions and six touch-

Normally, Oregon's go-to guy, Brandon scored seven straight points early in the second half to give the Ducks a 50-45 lead with 12:23 left, but didn't score again until his jumper in the lane with 46 seconds left helped send the game into overtime.

"Individually we all had our moments but we had a couple lapses in the second half where we could have taken the lead but didn't," Brandon said.

Wisconsin also had its problems, especially when Peters was almost the goat rather than the hero.

The Badgers, with a 69-67 lead in the extra session, stripped Brandon of the ball in the lane and tried to run out the clock before Peters was fouled with 21 seconds remaining.

He missed the front end of the one-and-one and after a timeout, the Ducks took a 70-69 lead on a three-point bomb by Lyden.

Guard Kevin Mixon was the first option on the play, but when he couldn't get an open shot, he penetrated and kicked it to Lyden, the second option who drilled the shot.

"I didn't mind taking the shot because I had been shooting the three-pointer in practice and I had the green light," Lyden said.

Then it was Peters' turn.

The Badgers were looking for either Tim Locum or Brian Good to take the shot, but with time running out, Peters was forced to put up a 23-footer than made him the hero.

"Those were our main shooters and I just knew there wasn't enough time to make a pass and get a shot off," Peters, a non-scholarship transfer from Ripon College, said.

"Basketball is a game of confidence and every win we get adds confidence that will help us with the Big-10 season," he said.

Perhaps the kind of confidence a team hoping for an NCAA Tournament bid needs.

China

In China, the Christians light their houses with beautiful paper lanterns. Christmas trees are called 'trees of light' and are decorated with paper chains, paper flowers, and paper lanterns.

France

On Christmas Eve, French children put their shoes in front of the fireplace. They hope that Pere Noel (Father Christmas) will fill them with presents.

 Christmas comes in summertime in these countries. Families often celebrate by having a picnic at the beach!

Denmark

The people of Denmark have their big Christmas meal at midnight on Christmas Eve. For dessert they have a special rice pudding with one almond in it. Whoever gets the almond has good luck in the coming year.

I heard it through the grapevine...
