Dellinger receives coach honors

Oregon men's cross country Coach Bill Dellinger has been named the District VIII coach of the year by the United States Cross Country Association.

The Ducks had another successful season this fall under Dellinger, who has been Oregon's cross country coach since 1967.

Oregon won its second straight Pacific-10 Conference title this past season, and despite being without No. 1 runner Colin Dalton at the District VIII meet, the Ducks still finished third and advanced to the NCAA meet.

With Dalton back for the NCAA meet, Oregon finished fifth, the 14th time in Dellinger's coaching career that the Ducks finished in the top five at the NCAAs.

Dellinger was also named as the national coach of the year for both cross country and outdoor track and field during last fall and last spring's seasons, respectively. Dellinger has been the head track coach since 1973, leading Oregon to 11 top 10 finishes 15 years, including a national championship in 1984.

Dellinger ran under Bill Bowerman when he competed for the Ducks from 1954 to 1956. Dellinger was a three-time Olympian and won the bronze medal in the 5,000 meters at the 1964 Olympics.
