at Johnson Hall and moves to Gerlinger Lounge for a reception. Call 346-4379 for more information.

Deadline for submitting Et als to the Emerald front desk, EMU Suite 300, is noon the day before publication. Et als run the day of the event unless the event takes place before noon; items run only once.

Items for events charging admission or a donation will not run. Events running closest to the University will be given priority.

HOUSE

In her parting speech, Katz said it was important not to dwell on the past and emphasized the necessity to set political differences aside in order to better represent the people.

"Citizens turn to us to solve the problems ... What we are about is more than balancing books and keeping house ... what we are about is investing in our people and our quality of life," she said.

In other business, the House elected Romana Kennedy chief clerk and elected Rep. Bill Markham, R-Riddle, as speaker pro tem.

At the same time the House was convening in its chambers, the Senate was busy at work swearing in its new members and kicking off the beginning of the hectic new session.

The Senate began its inauguration with a short incantation-performance by members of the Confederate Tribes of Warm Springs, who were adorned in their native headdress. The order of business was called and then Oregon state Supreme Court Judge George Joseph swore in new members.

An unidentified senator rose to nominate Sen. John Kitzhaber, D-Roseburg, to serve as Senate president. The nominator said Kitzhaber has been a real leader who "puts policy before politics." Kitzhaber was re-elected president and expressed his pleasure in his acceptance speech.

In other business, Sen. Frank Roberts was elected as president pro tem and Donna Merrill was elected secretary of the Senate.
