Several restaurants to feature specials

It has been said that the path to the heart is through the stomach. This is especially true at Valentine season.

Love is alive and the aroma of culinary delights is in the air, but there is no need to worry — not all romantic dinners will empty pockets. Couples can have that special dinner for $25 or less.

DeFrisco's Restaurant, 99 W. 10th, is offering a hearty meal for two — prime rib and scampi for $10.95 a plate.

sandwiches in the place of the French bread and cheese. The only catch is that you have to return the basket.

Wild Plum Restaurant, 1081 Valley River Way, is offering a special that involves a Valentine's Day favorite. With a purchase of $4 or more, you get a cherry pie for just $2.50.

Humble Bagel, 2435 Hilliard, will make its usual claim to fame, but in a more heartfelt way. On Feb. 14th, the bagels will be made in heart shapes. Cost: $2 a pound.

For those couples that don't want to eat in a restaurant, there is always a picnic. Fifth Street Wine and Cheese, 296 E. 5th, can put together a light meal. The basket contains a bottle of champagne or red wine, a loaf of French bread, some cheeses, and two glasses.

can eat plenty for under $25. The cafe promises that its pies and cookies will be "lovingly" prepared.

Rennie's Landing, 1214 Kincaid, has more than one reason to celebrate. Valen-

If a couple is willing to spend several dollars more, Ambrosia Restaurant, 174 E. Broadway, and the Jazz Station, 1695 W. 18th, will serve special dinners. At Ambrosia, couples will be able to select platters from a collection of three.

One dish will be roast duck with an orange-green peppercorn glaze. Also, there will be rack of lamb with a mustard sauce. Paella, a Spanish-Portuguese dish, will feature an array of seafood, poultry, and meat. Included is lobster, clams, mussels, chicken, sausages, and rice. Two dinners would come to $30.

The Jazz Station will offer two four-course meals for about $30. The courses include hors-d'oeuvres and champagne, a choice of soup or salad, brandy chicken, and cheesecake for dessert.
