

Pee-wee denies sex charges, 'Playhouse' dropped

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor-comedian Paul Reubens, star of the CBS children's show "Pee-wee's Playhouse," on Monday denied police charges that he exposed himself in an adult movie theater.

CBS, however, said Monday it would drop five remaining "Pee-wee's Playhouse" reruns from its Saturday morning children's lineup.

Reubens, 38, who became famous as the nasal, bow-tied pre-adolescent Pee-wee Herman, was arrested Friday night in a Sarasota, Fla., adult theater and charged with indecent exposure. An undercover vice officer said he saw the actor masturbate.

"According to Paul, the facts as stated by the vice squad were totally untrue and he never exposed himself or engaged in any other improper activities," his Los Angeles publicists, Richard Grant & Associates, said in a statement.

"Paul's family and friends have rallied to his support, along with hundreds of fans who have called his family with their words of support," the statement said.

"Paul, who is emotionally devastated by the embarrassment of the situation, is currently in seclusion with friends and eagerly anticipating his complete vindication," the statement said.

Earlier Monday evening, CBS announced it would drop the five remaining reruns of the Emmy-winning "Pee-wee's Playhouse," which had been canceled in April.

"In light of current circumstances, and until we know more, these episodes will not be presented on CBS," network spokeswoman Ann Morfogen said in a statement. Other children's programming will replace the shows.

Three other men were arrested at the XXX South Trail Theater, which was showing "Nancy Nurse," "Turn Up The Heat" and "Tiger Shark."

Reubens was freed on $219 bail and faces arraignment Aug. 9. If convicted, he would face up to two months in jail and a $500 fine.
