Tickets sold out for next game

Apparently the disappointment over Oregon's loss at Utah last weekend hasn't hurt the appetite of Duck football fans, as possibly the largest crowd in Autzen Stadium history will watch Saturday's game against USC.

University ticket manager Hunt Holsapple is expecting "46,000-plus" for the game, he said.

Only once has Autzen attendance broken the 46,000 mark, that in the Ducks' 30-21 win over Oregon State in 1989. That game saw 46,087 fans set the new high for Autzen attendance.

The game will be televised nationally by ESPN at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Reserved tickets sold out on Friday, and student tickets for the game disappeared Tuesday afternoon at about 3:30, Holsapple said.

"About an hour ago there were 100 left," Holsapple said at 4 p.m. Tuesday, "but now they are all gone."

But students who were not able to get a student ticket still have an opportunity to join the Autzen crowd. At 4 p.m. Tuesday, Holsapple said approximately 1,000 standing-room only tickets were still available to students for the child's price of $6.

The standing-room tickets can be bought at the Casanova Center ticket office from 9 to 5 daily, or students can visit the McArthur Court ticket from between 10 to 4 daily.

Football future unclear for Bo

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A spokesman for Bo Jackson's doctor said Tuesday no decision has been made concerning the two-sport star's immediate football future, and one won't be made until after the baseball season.

"Bo has said from early on that while baseball season is on, he's going to concentrate on baseball," said Lanier Johnson, a spokesman for Dr. James R. Andrews and Alabama Sports Medicine in Birmingham, Ala. "When football season gets here, he'll deal with football."

Jackson is the designated hitter for the Chicago White Sox. He signed with the White Sox as a free agent after being released by the Kansas City Royals on March 19.

The Royals released Jackson because they didn't believe he'd ever play baseball again due to the hip injury he suffered while playing for the Los Angeles Raiders in a playoff game against Cincinnati Jan. 13.

Jackson's football future became a hot topic on Tuesday when the Atlanta Braves announced that outfielder Deion Sanders would return to the team during the pennant race while he remained a defensive back for the Atlanta Falcons.

The second-place White Sox are longshots, at best, in the American League West. They entered Tuesday night's game at Minnesota trailing the Twins by eight games with 12 left for both teams.

Should the Twins win the division, Jackson will be finished with baseball on Oct. 6.

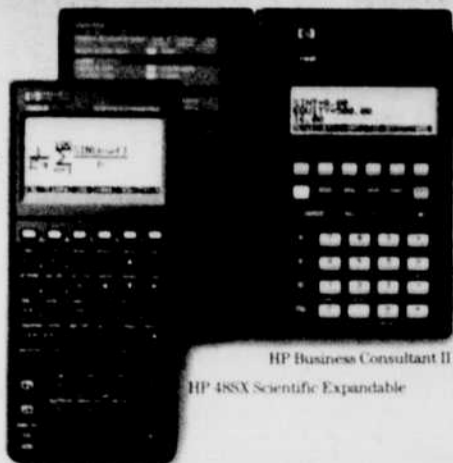

More doctors recommend extra-strength HP.

More and more PhDs across the country are recommending Hewlett-Packard financial and scientific calculators to their students. And for some very strong reasons.

"The HP 48SX Scientific Expandable has powerful graphics tools that are remarkably helpful to students learning mathematical concepts. And with the equation solver feature, it's excellent for applying mathematics to engineering," according to Dr. William Rahmeyer, a professor of civil and environmental engineering at Utah State University.

"The HP Business Consultant II has an equation solver and extensive math functions. These free the students from computational tedium so they can think and interact on a higher level," says Dr. Lee V. Stiff, a professor of math education at North Carolina State University.

So go check out the HP calculator line at your college bookstore or HP retailer. You'll agree, there's no faster relief from the pain of tough problems.

HP calculators. The best for your success.
