Defenseman ties game 1-1

The Oregon men's club sports soccer team tied Willamette University 1-1 at South Bank Field on Friday, with a goal in the last five minutes.

Defenseman Wes Cedros scored Oregon's only goal, with five minutes remaining, to tie the game. The goal came after a penalty, and Oregon, 1-2-2 overall, got possession.

Freshman Howard Uvaolive took the ball down the left side, and attempted a shot that missed but ended up being a great pass in front of the goal. Cedros and midfielder Kelly Saito were both there to get the miss, and Cedros kicked it in.

"I just picked up some garbage over the middle," said Cedros, who left the game in the first half with a shin injury.

Oregon fell behind when Willamette's Takuya Ozawa took a pass from Tom Lucas and kicked it past Oregon goalkeeper Brian Colling.

"It was only one of three shots on goal today," Colling said. "There was no pressure on either goal today. The game was played in the midfield."

Willamette was at a disadvantage during the game as the team brought the minimum 11 players, giving it no opportunity to rest players.

"We played well, but we only had 11 men here today," Willamette Coach Brad Victor said. "We spent the last 15 minutes just trying to hang on."

Oregon came out firing in the second half, spending the first 20 minutes on the offensive. Despite getting numerous chances, they didn't get the ball in until Cedros' goal with five minutes.

Oregon Coach Mike King was not impressed with the game.

"I think we were tired, two games in three days was too much," King said.
