

UNIVERSITY BRIEFS

Dance Oregon sponsoring class

To celebrate the Halloween spirit, Dance Oregon, an ASUO-sponsored student dance organization, is putting on "Modern by Moonlight," a modern dance class open to all skill levels.

Dance Assistant Professor Sherrie Barr will be the "guest witch" teaching the class tonight from 11 p.m. to midnight in Gerlinger Annex.

The class costs $3. For more information, contact Annesa at 686-4895.

Director named to post in law school

Eloise Dunn Stuhr has been named director of development for the University law school, University President Myles Brand announced Tuesday.

"As development director for the law school, Stuhr will be responsible for leading the school's fund-raising program, which is expected to have a significant role in the University's upcoming and ambitious capital campaign," Brand said.

Stuhr will also work with the law school dean to oversee the school's advisory boards.

Stuhr, who has been assistant vice president for development and executive director of the University Foundation since 1987, will begin her new position Nov. 4.

Stuhr and her Foundation staff have produced record-breaking fund-raising totals each year, including $11.9 million raised during the 1990-91 fiscal year. This year's first-quarter mark is double the amount of money raised in the same period last year.

Bequest to benefit Creative Writing program

Students in the University's Creative Writing program will benefit from a $1.14 million gift from the estate of Walter Kidd of Portland.

The Walter and Nancy Kidd bequest will establish an endowment to fund a special program of prizes and tutorials in creative writing for undergraduates.

Walter Kidd, a teacher, poet and scholar, was a liberal arts graduate of the University. He received a bachelor's degree in 1926 and a master's in 1935.

"This is a great and historic opportunity to create an excellent, exciting new writing program," said Garrett Hongo, director of the Creative Writing program.

The Kidd Tutorials will focus exclusively on creative writing projects and courses of study designed by the students in consultation with their tutors.

The Kidd Prizes in Creative Writing will give significant cash awards through an annual spring contest open to all University undergraduates.

Graduate student Shelly Withrow is the first tutor in the Kidd Tutorials. Seniors John Higgins and Michael Buck, and junior Inez Peterson are the first Kidd Scholars.

Join us for the first
Chandler Lecture
Sponsored by the School of Journalism
Celebrating its 75th anniversary

"War in the Gulf, Trouble in the Streets: Lessons from the 1991 News Year"

Steven A. Smith
Managing Editor
The Wichita Eagle
Wichita, Kansas

Friday, November 1, 1991
129 Law School
3:30 p.m.

Following the lecture you are invited to a public reception in the lobby of the Law School
4:30 p.m.

This lecture is made possible with an endowment gift from Robert Chandler of The Bulletin in Bend, Oregon.

The University of Oregon Microcomputer Support Center and Apple Computer, Inc. Present

Mac Halloween

Thursday, October 31
1:00 pm - 5:00 pm

IT'S A PARTY!

Erb Memorial Union
Fir Room

NEW PRODUCT UNMASKING!

Take a peek at Apple's new products, including the Macintosh Quadra series, the Macintosh PowerBooks, and the new generation of Apple LaserWriters!

A WITCH OF A DEAL!

It's no trick! Apple is treating eligible students, faculty and staff to substantial savings on the purchase of their most popular Macintosh computers, bundled with great printers!

MEDIA MAGIC!

Watch the sparks fly as one of Apple's Technical Sorcerers takes you on a tour of the multimedia power of the Macintosh, including a demonstration of QuickTime! Presentations at 1:30 & 3:30.

COSTUME CONTEST!

Come costumed or masked, and you'll have more than a ghost of a chance to win an Apple CD-ROM Drive! To be judged, attend the last Media Magic Presentation. Prize awarded at 4:30 pm.

HALLOWEEN REFRESHMENTS AND GAMES!