GAME PREVIEW
Oregon, Stanford to cross different paths Saturday at Autzen

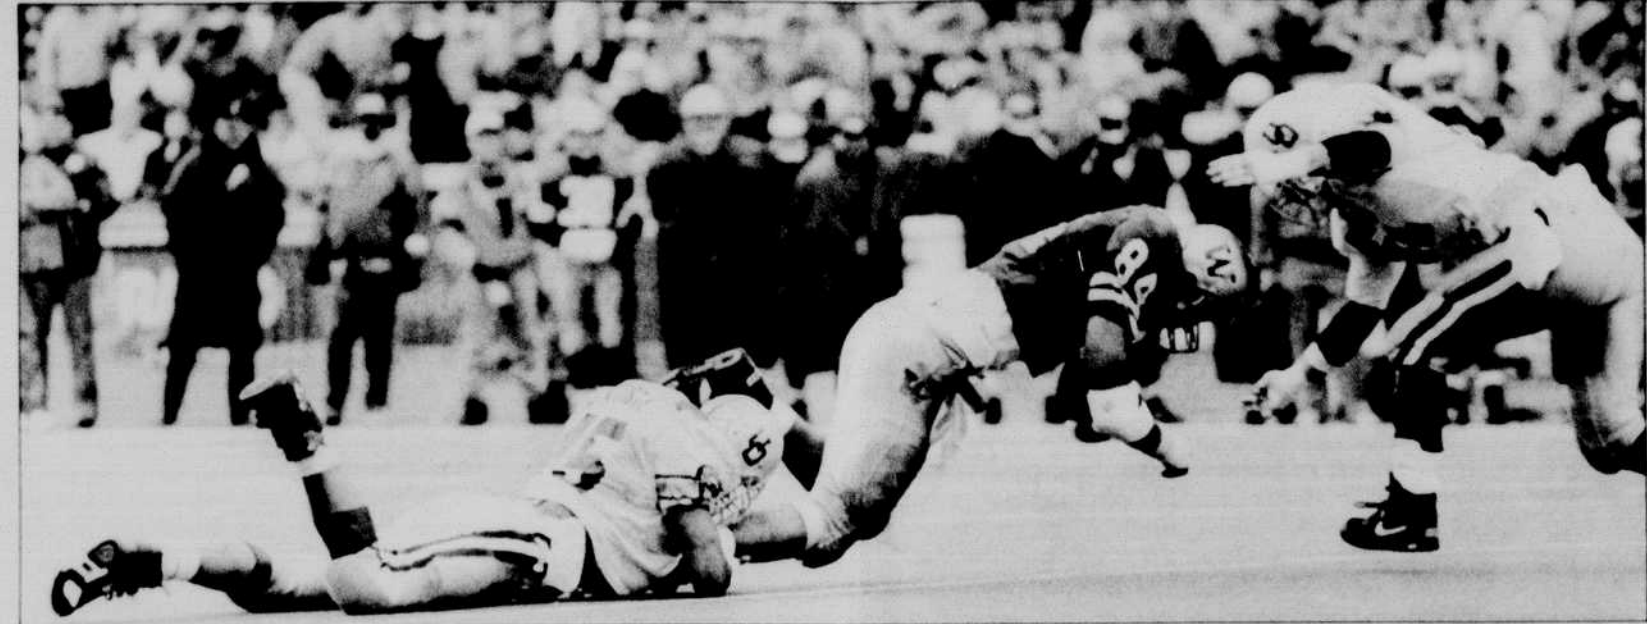

By Jake Berg
Emerald Sports Editor

Oregon and Stanford are two football teams on a roll. Unfortunately for the Ducks, though, Oregon has been on a roll downward for the last two games, and Stanford is rolling in the opposite direction. The two teams meet Saturday for the Ducks' annual homecoming game at 1 p.m. at Autzen Stadium.

Oregon, 1-3 in the Pacific-10 Conference and 3-4 overall, has lost its two last games and last three quarterbacks. No kidding. Redshirt freshman Kyle Crowston will get his first collegiate start Saturday after injuries have made casualties of the first-through third-string quarterbacks.

Senior Bob Brothers, a flanker for most of the season, will back up Crowston, and walk-on true freshman Clayton Millis is the Duck's third-string thrower.

"Kyle is working very hard," Oregon Coach Rich Brooks said. "What we do gameplan-wise will suit both (Crowston and Brothers)."

The Oregon defense looked solid against Washington last week and will need to perform at its best against a high-powered Stanford offense Saturday.

overall, the Cardinal has won its last three games and four of its last five. Stanford's only loss in that time was a 42-26 loss to Notre Dame.

And the Cardinal has been doing it from both sides of the ball. Its defense currently is ranked third in the Pac-10, allowing 322.7 yards a game, and its offense has been good for an average of 405.9 yards a game.

The Stanford defense is led by last week's Pac-10 Player of the Week, Ron George. The outside linebacker had nine tackles last week against Oregon State, including three for losses, and caused two fumbles.

"George is one of the best players in the country at that position," Brooks said.

Quickly shaping up to be quite a player on the Stanford offense's side is quarterback Steve Stenstrom, who replaced starting quarterback Jason Palumbis and has gone 3-0 since then. Stenstrom is third in the conference in pass-
