

employment and budget cuts campus wide, many students have realized how vitally important the EMU is to University of Oregon students.

As our student union, the EMU is the hub for many activities and is used by many student groups and individuals. If elected to the EMU Board, I will commit myself to insuring that the EMU is accessible to all UO students by working to maintain a safe and comfortable environment for our diverse student population. I will also work to see that the EMU budget is fair and economical and that EMU facilities are available for a wide range of student groups and activities. Vote for Wendy Vejlupek.

ASPAC

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS PRESIDENTIAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Ryan Deckert

No statement submitted.

- § -

Maxwell Wallingford

As our University faces the many challenges of the next year it is increasingly important that the students voice their concerns and opinions to the administration. One of the avenues to express your concern is through the student representative to the President's Advisory Council. An accessible representative is a direct channel to President Brand.

I am ideally suited for this task. As a student I have been active in many areas of university life. I am a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and have served on the executive council as chaplain. I was a member of the club sports crew team for two years, and I am currently serving as the social chair for the interfraternity council. Through my involvement with a variety of students I feel I have gained an understanding of their needs, and the ability to effectively communicate those needs to the president.

It is my goal to truly make myself available to the students so that I may clearly share their concerns with the president so that changes are made by us, rather than ordered down to us.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT
Primary Elections:
April 22 & 23
General Election:
April 29 & 30

IFC

INCIDENTAL FEE

COMMITTEE

1-YEAR

Jose L. Balderas

I am running for an IFC position because, I believe that the first priority of student leaders is to represent the students. We should be priority because we are responsible for the diversity of this campus.

The job of an IFC member is to allocate 4.7 million of our dollars. Next year incidental fees and tuition will increase because of an estimated decrease in enrollment and because of Measure 5. We would like to see professionalism for fiscal responsibilities and openness for interaction with students.

A good IFC member will be Accountable for maintaining low fees for better Accessibility to Education, as well as support Diversity and Education. Without Diversity, which educates students about multiculturalism, and without Education, which is the reason why we are here, the University of Oregon will not be nationally recognized.

If I am elected for this position, I will bring a fresh perspective and knowledge of who I will represent. Accountability, Accessibility, Diversity, and Education. STUDENTS ARE NUMBER ONE ON MY LIST.

VOTE FOR JOSE L. BALDERAS!!

- § -

Chris Bauman

I have worked all year on Residents' Housing Governance Council (RHGC) and ASPAC, and have seen a lot of the spending habits and procedures of a variety of groups within the University community. I have a lot of respect for the organization and networking that many groups use, especially in regards to spending money, but I see a lot of room for changes within the system, and I'd like the chance to try and encourage those changes where necessary. There have been some mistakes and oversights made within the government, not necessarily due to incompetency or inappropriate positions, but maybe out of need for new insight and experience. I'd like to be the one to contribute that insight and experience.

- § -

Mark E. Bellamy

With the impending threat of higher tuition costs for the next year, access to higher education by the common student may be limited. One way to keep costs down is to decrease Student Fees by 10% in support of the current initiative. This means reducing stipends, cutting EMU management, and eliminating waste and abuse of student money.

If elected, I will be open, accessible, and professional working hard for the average students concerns. I am committed to working with programs and organization to answer questions and allocate our student moneys fairly. I plan on personally attending many meetings of the programs to more fully understand their goals and needs.

My experience in finance classes and positions as Treasure and Fundraising Chairman in student groups qualifies me to do the best job for all students. I plan on protecting and enhancing student groups and participation in the fee allocation process. In standing up for program's rights, I also will hold groups accountable for deficit spending which harms students. With rights comes responsibility.

I will manage your money by negotiating in a wise, fair, and impartial manner. I'm willing to give 110% - I hope you'll be willing to give me your vote.

Mark Brinkmann

The students of the University of Oregon are being hit with the increased costs of attending the University due mostly to the impacts of Ballot Measure 5. I realize that incidental fees are high in relation to other Universities, but I also feel that the University of Oregon students receive more benefits from their incidental fees than students at other Universities.

Nearly all student programs, which receive incidental fee dollars, operate on lean budgets and provide vital services to students. The two largest incidental fee recipients, the EMU and the Athletic Department, incur expenses that seem to increase every year and steps must be taken to make these programs as lean as student programs.

The Incidental Fee Committee is charged with the task of allocating student funds equitably and responsibly. The IFC must work hard to keep incidental fees as low as possible while maintaining quality services.

If elected to the IFC, I plan to see that the quality of programs and services provided by student groups be maintained. Furthermore, I plan to try and reduce the number of incidental fee dollars that go to the Athletic Department and the EMU, without limiting student access to them. Vote for Mark Brinkmann.

- § -

Ed Carson

With student enrollment declining and further tuition increases ahead, next year will be challenging for the Incidental Fee Committee. IFC members will need more skill than before in order to properly serve students. After last year's problems with the IFC, I became concerned with how our student fees were being allocated. I was the only person that wasn't part of the ASUO Executive, IFC, or IFC staff that consistently attend IFC meetings, and I believe I have the experience and commitment necessary to be on the IFC.

The IFC is charged with setting and allocating student fees in excess of 4.5 million dollars. In return, students are able to take advantage of over 80 ASUO programs funded by the IFC. I feel that student programs provide important cultural, political, and safety services for the campus. If elected, I will give all student groups a fair and unbiased hearing.

I believe that we should examine the EMU, ASUO, and Athletic Department to find ways to lower student fees without having a negative impact on students programs. This will be difficult, but if you want IFC members who can make tough choices, then vote Ed Carson for the IFC.

William R Gaskill

I am tired of the left-wing machine exacting their tribute on campus. A self-contained and self-perpetuating oligarchy hold political power in the ASUO and spend $309 of my money on atrocious, so-called "progressive" items like homosexual rights and abortion promotion. They also commit fraud through sloppy bookkeeping and overpayments, use the patronage route to line their friends pockets, go on retreats at our expense, and spew forth a anti-American, anti-family ideology. I, for one, simply despise. It is time for some opposition in the IFC.

As the tax and appropriation body of the student government, the Incidental Fee Committee is inherently political. I strongly disagree with the agenda of the current regime and seek a revolution in the system. I will work to reduce fees by 25% to 35% by zero funding rent seeking groups like the homosexual movement, vote to reduce stipends for all fee receiving bodies, eliminating funding for nonessential activities and perks, and using the power of the purse to induce frugal spending habits by all recipients.

While this platform is conservative, I believe the mess of student government demands strong medicine. I have the courage to put my vote where my mouth is!

- § -

Jerod Hume

Incidental fees have become a source of hand outs for many groups on this campus which are not designed to benefit every paying student but rather their own special interest organization. These same groups are living in a socialist utopia where they are accountable to no one and are allowed to waste student money by irresponsible deficit spending.

This waste of our money must end. As a member of the Incidental Fee Committee I would attempt to put an end to the frivolous and ambiguous spending of our money on activities which do not enhance the quality of everyone's education. The passage of Measure #5 will not allow the present mindset of "free money". Groups who need funding must learn to fundraise for their own special interests. Education is why we are here. Education is why we spend so much money.

The waste of our money must end. I have no personal agenda to support or attack any specific programs. I want to further the quality of everyone's education by promoting responsibility, initiative, and accountability. My interest is for every student's education. It's time for a change.

The waste of money must end. Furthermore, I have no communicable diseases.

Jerod Hume for Incidental Fee Committee

James McNichols

Next year tuition is expected to increase by 6.7 percent and incidental fees will most likely increase also due to a drop in student enrollment. The 1993-1994 academic school year may be worse as the second wave of Measure 5 drowns out University funds. If tuition continues to increase the students who will suffer most will be those already underrepresented at the University — namely, low-income students, students of color, and physically challenged students.

I believe that our student groups are vital to maintain any sort of diversity on campus. My first responsibility as an IFC member will be to ensure that our groups and our interests be preserved.

Not only must this diversity be protected, but accessibility to our groups, hence the University, must be increased. One way to increase accessibility is to lower incidental fees. I believe it is possible to lower fees while keeping our student organizations intact.