

Timing right for Duck win

Just when Oregon needed a win, Arizona showed up on the Ducks' schedule.

Perfect timing.

The Oregon women's basketball team broke out of a minor road slump by topping the Wildcats, 91-67, at Tucson.

The win improved the Ducks' record to 10-5 overall and 2-3 in the Pacific-10 Conference, giving Oregon its first Pac-10 road win and its first win away from Eugene in more than a month.

Oregon shot 55 percent (21 of 38 from the floor) in the first half, including 5 of 9 three-point shots, and jumped out to a 51-31 first-half lead. Arizona lacked the sharp shooting of the Ducks, making only 34 percent (12 of 35) of its baskets.

"We made our three-pointers, which really turned things around ... we played one of our smarter first halves of the season," Oregon coach Elwin Heiny said.

The Wildcats shot even worse in the second half, but Oregon finished shooting 51 percent of its shots in the game.

"We came ready to play," Heiny said, "not to say that they didn't, but it's important to be concentrated."

The Ducks looked concentrated enough as five different Oregon players finished with double figures in scoring.

Vanessa Selden led the way for Oregon, recording team-highs of 16 points on 8 of 11 shooting and seven assists. Senior Staci Wallenborn scored 14 points and grabbed a team-high eight rebounds.

Sara Wilson scored 12 points and had seven boards, and Missy Stowell also scored 12 points. Jean Maree Lillard came off the bench and made 5 of 7 shots for 10 points.

There was bad news for Oregon, however. Forward Kelly Blair sprained her ankle and will miss at least Saturday's game at Arizona State.

Road trip set for wrestlers

The Oregon wrestling team lost its first match of the season a week ago, but don't expect that to bother the 22nd-ranked Ducks.

Oregon bounced back from the loss to Fresno State last Friday to beat two other teams during the weekend, and the Ducks look to extend that streak this weekend.

Oregon wrestles at Boise State tonight and again Saturday night at Brigham Young.

Boise State, 5-3 overall, has lost five in a row to the Ducks, including a 33-7 loss at Eugene a year ago. Nels Nelson, Boise State's top wrestler, is ranked sixth nationally at 150 pounds by the Amateur Wrestling News.

Brigham Young has wrestled only once this season, losing to Boise State, 22-12. Oregon has beaten BYU the last four times, including a 33-7 win at McArthur Court last season.

Oregon's top wrestler is 118-pounder Dan Vidlak, ranked third in the nation at his weight. The senior owns a 44-2-1 mark in dual meets during his career.

Class: Psychology 101
Term: Winter 1992

Instructor: Lane Transit District

1) Who developed "the hierarchy of need"? List them.

2) Give an example of cognitive dissonance.

3) Adler, Fromm, Menniger, and Allport are described as "Post-Freudian theorists". What does that mean?

Summarize major achievements of each.

4) You can ride the bus...anywhere. Anytime.

All term long. Just show your student I.D.

Would Skinner call this "Positive Reinforcement"?

BONUS

5) According to Freud, what does "the bus"

represent in a dream?

How do the id, the ego and the superego affect bus ridership?

Please be specific.