QUESTION:
 What are you doing during spring break?

"I'm going home to Laguna Beach, California, and I'm going to go scuba diving for the first time. It's going to be kind of eerie and kind of scary, but it should be fun."
 —Philip Bentley
 sophomore, undeclared

"I'm going to the Nevada Desert to check out the hot springs with my boyfriend and my best friend. There's going to hopefully be hot, dry weather and no cloudiness."
 —Kendra Sorensen
 freshman, undeclared

"I'm going down to California. I have a friend whose grandparents have a house on Huntington Beach, and I'm going to try body boarding for the first time ever in my life."
 —Gregory Woldt
 sophomore, journalism

"I'm going to travel to San Francisco and visit some friends. I've never been to anyplace in America but Eugene. I expect to see the beautiful scenery of San Francisco that I've seen in pictures."
 —Jane Kebera
 sophomore, CIS

"I'm going home to Joseph, Oregon, and see friends. I'm not going to do much but relax and have no responsibilities. I'll just hang out and watch a lot of TV."
 —Leigh Latta
 freshman, biology

"I'm going back to Los Angeles to visit my parents and maybe go to Mexico. I'm most looking forward to seeing my parents. I haven't seen them since winter vacation."
 —Ruriko Mugishima

Frank Geltner, acting EMU director, said eliminating administrative positions or cutting administrative salaries is difficult because the employees are under contract and mandated pay increases for public employees are issued by the state.

"The system forces us to do some things that are very unpleasant," Geltner told the crowd Friday. "No students are expendable, but we have to be sure we're serving the entire student population, and we have to downsize because of decreasing enrollment."

"Some students will be impacted," he said, "but there will still be student jobs and the services and programs are still there."

Eight to nine part-time jobs in EMU food service alone would be eliminated. Food Service Manager Dennis Carr proposed those cuts, saying it is the only area in his budget that allows for any real flexibility.

"My only options, because of contracts, is to control student labor," Carr said.

Three separate budgets actually passed in one vote. $586,704 was approved for administrative costs, which includes a 39.3 percent cut in student wages and a 1.09 percent increase for permanent administrative positions.

Budgets of $502,047 for program administration costs and $743,263 for house expenses were approved.

The budget proposals were put together by the EMU administrative team, including Geltner and assistant director Susan Racette, and then presented to the EMU budget committee.

Budget committee members Scott Dunlap, Mark Watson, Elizabeth Brownhill, Travis Green and Fred Beisse voted in favor. Dodge, Cruz and
