

LETTERS

Bad guy

I'm the bad guy who, at Thursday's rally (May 14), raised my voice and asked, "Does the ASUO plan on spending any more of student's fees to help these people?" (i.e. those dangerous window-breaking federal fugitives). This was in reference to a conveniently timed ad in last Tuesday's ODE (May 12) explaining student's legal rights, placed and paid for by the ASUO with approximately $180 of student incidental fees.

During the rally, incoming ASUO president Bobby Lee tried to explain (rationalize with bad analogies) to me that the ad was for all students, and not for just a select few. As if 17,500 University students suddenly needed to know their legal rights, just in case the Feds came knocking on their doors for some reason ("Sir, your dog pooped on federal property, you'll have to come with us..."). Why not use $27,000 of our incidental fees to pay for the broken windows, because the Federal Building is for all students' use, isn't it?

My point has nothing to do with how the protesters are being treated or about the protest in general. My point is this: If you all want the ASUO spending your incidental fees any way they choose to, then don't go whining about how expensive it is to go to school in the future. At least I raised my voice.

Steve Buck
Student

Didja see it?

Aren't all of you proud? "Hey mom, Didja see our should-know-better-at-the-age-of-27, student-elected (sounds nice) senator?"

"Yeah mom, the white one, in the black-and-white plaid shirt."

Way to go Brian; I can appreciate your intentions of protesting the sickening, not-guilty verdict handed down to the officers responsible for the Rodney King beating. I cannot appreciate the way you chose to "really teach those guys a lesson" by helping to instigate, or participate, in the destruction of the Federal Building to the tune of $27,000. Unless you know something I don't, I, among many others, will probably end up paying for your window-kicking protest as your vandalous acts are tried through the legal system — not only as students, but as taxpayers.

By the way, who's paying for your court-appointed counsel?

What's that? The state?

Thank you, Hoop, you are a fine spokesperson for the University.

Martyr? NOT.

Ritch Graham
Student

KID'S DAY!

New Zoo Petting Zoo

Music, The McCormacks
1-1:30

Bobbly Clown
11-1:00

Weiss & Patricia Magic

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON BOOK STORE

Come with your kids for great fun!

- Storytelling
- Origami
- Fabric Painting
- Marble Art
- Face Painting
- Food & Drink
- FREE Prizes!
- Wishing Well

20% Off Storewide!

Sat • May 30th • 11-4:00 • All Ages!

Cash

For Textbooks
Mon. - Sat.

Smith Family Bookstore

768 E. 13th
1 Block From Campus

345-1651

GENTLEMEN'S ENCORE

Quality Resale Clothing for Men & Women or Discriminating Taste.

1111 WILLAMETTE

We Buy, Trade, or Consign

THE FAR SIDE By GARY LARSON

It wasn't until he got home that Sahib realized the dang thing had no front end.

THIS COULD BE YOUR BEST FRIEND!

U of O - CLASS OF '92

CONGRATULATIONS ZACH!
We'll miss you next year!
Love, Your Roomies!

If you really care about that special graduate, then you probably care enough to embarrass them in front of the whole student body with a choice photo and some descriptive copy in our first annual GRADUATION EDITION, appearing June 5, 1992! Go through their photo album or call their Mom in order to find that one picture that is worth a thousand words.

PLACING AN AD IS EASY...AND CHEAP!

Just stop by the ODE Classified Office, ROOM 300, EMU, or call 346-4343 for details!

GRADUATION EDITION DEADLINE: JUNE 1, 1PM!

Looking for a good deal?? Read the Oregon Daily Emerald Classifieds.

