him not to use it," said council member Paul Nicholson.

Further criticism was raised by members over the sudden proposal and enforcement of the ban. The City Council held a meeting Wednesday to consider the ban and enforced the amendment Monday, less than a week later. Little time was available for a public discussion and the consideration of loss of money to the fireworks dealers.

"We have a long-term responsibility to make an effort since we are facing an imminent danger," said City Council member Bobby Green. "This is not the way to handle it, but we're trying to do something."

day and is unusually strong for a 7th grader, log pressing 1200 pounds.

Thursday, he broke the state shotput record by eight feet, throwing 50'8".

Sprague said he has been working with Track City for three years, and owes a lot to his coach, Christensen, who held the state record for the shot in 1967.

Sprague said he likes the shotput event the best for different reasons.

"It's great just to get out and see everyone compete," Sprague said "and I usually like things I'm good at."

Events will continue every Thursdays starting at 5:30 pm for kids and Fridays at 5:30 for 13-year-olds and older, includ-
