Grid squad loses four team veterans

Four members of the University's football program will not return to the squad this fall, Coach Rich Brooks announced Friday.

Sophomore fullback Tupu Alualu and sophomore tailback Kealii Clifford have been dismissed from the team for disciplinary reasons.

The Ducks will open fall camp Saturday, Aug. 15 with 97 players, including 72 from spring practice. A group of 25 transfers and freshmen will report Sunday, Aug. 9, for a week of orientation.

Tickets go on sale

Tickets for individual games on the 1992 Duck football schedule have gone on sale this week.

Tickets are $18 for six of the Autzen contests and $25 for the Oct. 17 visit by defending national champion Washington.

The Ducks will also host Hawaii (Sept. 5), Texas Tech (Sept. 19), Nevada-Las Vegas (Sept. 26), Arizona (Oct. 3), California (Nov. 7) and UCLA (Nov. 14) during the 1992 season.

All-Star teams picked

NEW YORK (AP) — Ozzie Smith of St. Louis was elected Wednesday to start at shortstop for the National League for the 10th consecutive All-Star game, the longest streak since balloting returned to the fans in 1970.

Also elected were Benito Santiago, Fred McGriff and Tony Gwynn of the San Diego Padres, the first time in 10 years an All-Star host has had as many as three starters.

And second baseman Roberto Alomar of Toronto and catcher Sandy Alomar Jr. of Cleveland both were elected for the second straight season, only the sixth time brothers were picked to start for one team.

Shortstop Cal Ripken Jr. of the Baltimore Orioles received the highest vote total at 2,699,733, the most since Montreal's Gary Carter got 2,785,407 in 1982.

Second baseman Ryne Sandberg of the Chicago Cubs led the NL with 2,434,660, the second straight season he received the most votes in his league. Sandberg is an eight-time starter.

McGriff, who edged San Francisco's Will Clark by 16,163 votes for the NL's starting spot at first base in the closest balloting, is a first-time All-Star, as are NL outfielders Barry Bonds and Andy Van Slyke of Pittsburgh and third baseman Terry Pendleton of Atlanta.

"It's an opportunity I've longed for since I was playing in Little League," Pendleton said. "It's something I wanted to achieve and I want to thank the fans, the Atlanta Braves and God."

Completing the NL lineup are Santiago, elected at catcher for the fourth consecutive season, and Gwynn, elected in the outfield for the fifth time. Santiago is on the disabled list and although it was unclear whether he would be activated this weekend, he said he wanted to play in the All-Star game.

The American League lineup includes outfielders Kirby Puckett of Minnesota, Ken Griffey Jr. of Seattle and Jose Canseco of Oakland. The Athletics said Wednesday that Canseco wouldn't come off the disabled list until after the All-Star game, forcing the AL to replace him.

Mark McGwire of the A's is at first base for the fifth consecutive year and Wade Boggs of Boston is at third base for the eighth straight season.

"It's always good to be one of the chosen few and to represent the Minnesota Twins," Puckett said. "I'm very appreciative of the fans' support."

The All-Star game is scheduled for Tuesday night at Jack Murphy Stadium. The Padres are playing host to the game for the first time since 1978, when the NL won 7-3. The AL has won four consecutive games, but the NL still leads the series 37-24-1.

Overlooked by fans were John Kruk and Darren Daulton of the Phillies and Gary Sheffield of the Padres. Kruk leads the NL with a .354 average, while Sheffield was second to McGriff with 17 homers. Daulton has a league-leading 58 RBIs. Detroit's Cecil Fielder, who leads the AL with 70 RBIs, was third in the voting at first base.

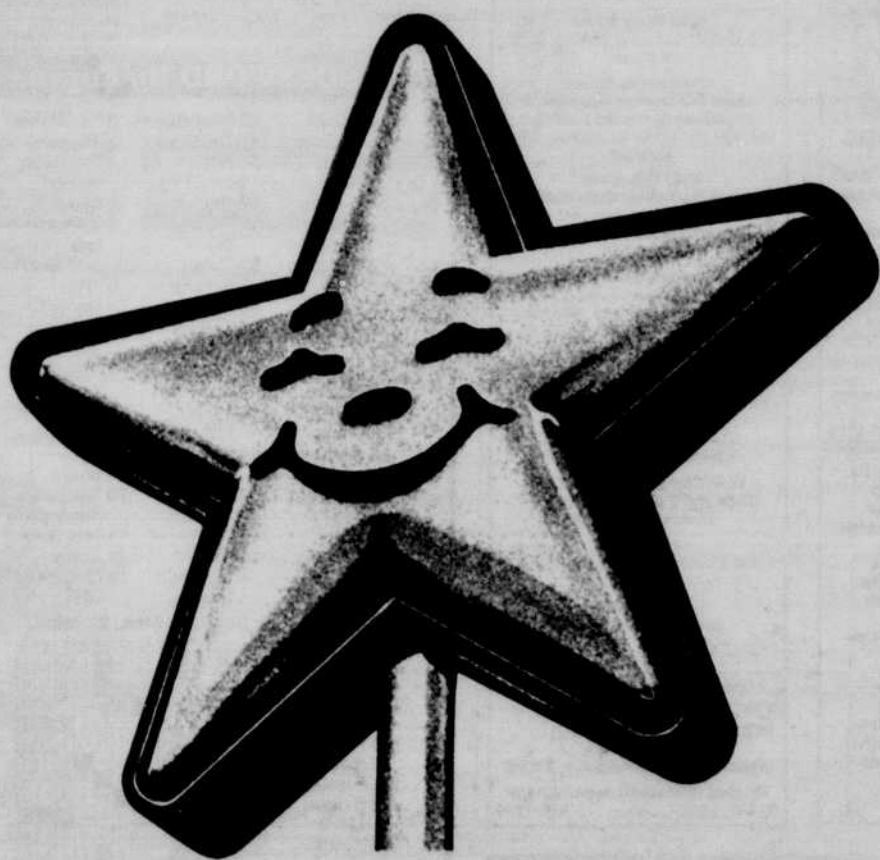

Smith broke a tie for consecutive elections with Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench and Carter, elected from both the Expos and the New York Mets.

"It's consistency to my craft and what I bring to it," Smith said. "I've tried to be as consistent as I possibly can, and I think that I've done that. ... When you're noted mostly as a defensive player as I am, it's really special."

The last time the host team had three or more elected starters was 1982, when Carter, Tim Lincecum and Andre Dawson started at Olympic Stadium in Montreal.

Sandy Alomar was elected for the third straight season, while his brother was picked for the second straight year. Canseco was elected for the fourth time, while Griffey and Puckett each were elected for the third time.

What New Restaurant Has A Famous Star Greet You At The Door?

Announcing The Grand Opening Of Carl's Jr. 686 E. Broadway, Eugene

At Carl's Jr., the food has been the star for over 50 years. Every day, we charbroil our hamburgers and chicken sandwiches instead of frying them. because charbroiling sears in the natural juices of the meat. We offer one of the most diverse menus around. In addition to a variety of charbroiled hamburgers and chicken sandwiches, we have an All-You-Can-Eat Salad Bar, an All-You-Want Beverage Bar, a full breakfast menu and more. Best of all, every guest gets a generous helping of old-fashioned, friendly service. In short, star treatment.
