WOW

Continued from Page 14C

On Sept. 27, the band "Human Rights" will sing reggae tunes. The lead singer for the band is a former member of "Bad Brains."

Another alternative rock band called "Chain Saw Kittens" will play Sept. 28.

The California reggae band "Inka Inka" will perform Sept. 30.

Look for the rock and roll band "Little Women and The Strangers" on Oct. 2.

On Oct. 3, the EMU Cultural Forum — a student group at the University — will present Baby Gramps and Walker T. Ryan. Baby Gramps, a will deliver his crowd-pleasing "cartoon music." He's an Oregon Country Fair favorite, Fennessy said.

Rock and roll band Jolly Mon will appear Oct. 10.

Bill Stains will present a night of folk music on Oct. 15.

Rockers "Jam Bay" performs Oct. 16.

On Oct. 17, the band "Jah Levi and The Higher Reasoning" will play a night of reggae.

According to the band's press packet, Carl Goldstein of Philadelphia was reincarnated with dreadlocks as Jah Levi, the band's lead singer. And people say Jewish boys from the East Coast have no fun.

The Martin Luther King Theater will perform "Real Women Have Curves" Oct. 23, 24 and 25.

On Oct. 30, "Hitting Birth" will perform their hybrid of rock and performance art.

For the Halloween performance, the EMU Cultural Farm takes over the stage with the "Aquarium Rescue Unit," a nationally touring band, "Little Women," out of Portland, and "Renegade Saints," a local band.

For more information on these and all bands appearing at WOW Hall or to inquire about volunteer openings, call 687-2746 or 687-2747. Every Friday edition of the Emerald also include's WOW's schedule.

Tickets can be purchased at the door, at the EMU Ticket Window or at participating outlets in Eugene.

"Kuraya's has caught on. Twice in a row it has earned mention in NORTHWEST BEST PLACES."
