Rugby team kicks off season

By Peter Alfrey
Emerald Contributor

With a solid group of returning players, Oregon's rugby team begins the 1992-1993 season looking to return to the NCAA Regionals.

Last season, the surprising Ducks were one of the top teams in the Northwest and headed on to the Western Regionals before losing to eventual national champion California. Oregon enters the season playing a few matches this fall before beginning a full schedule in the spring.

This past weekend the Ducks began play with matches in Portland. Oregon's second team played scrimmage matches with the Portland Men's Club and the Oregon Sports Union.

The first team played Portland on Saturday, hoping to repeat last year's 50-0 thrashing of the Pilots. With strong performances from Mitsutaka Hino, Samuel Chasia and Eric Mueller, the Ducks made it two in a row against Portland with a 26-5 victory. The Oregon defense was strong controlling the ball and allowing few offensive opportunities for the Pilots.

This year the team's main concern will be blending the experience of last season's players with the raw talent and athleticism of the squad's newcomers.

"We have a lot of experienced players that really help out a lot," said coach and player Bob Pierce. "We also have some talented newcomers, but who are now pretty inexperienced."

Upcoming matches for the Ducks include a trip Saturday to face the Corvallis Men's Club, a team Oregon pounded 56-0 last season. On Nov. 7 Oregon travels to Portland to face Lewis and Clark. And rugby's version of the Civil War takes place on Nov. 21 as the Ducks travel to Corvallis to face Oregon State.

"Our goal is to go back to the regionals," Pierce said. "But our problem is getting experienced players, and we are always looking for them."

Reece out for month

Sophomore Johnnie Reece underwent a new procedure to correct an abnormality within the conduction system of his heart Monday and will miss up to a month of practice, Oregon team physician Dr. D. Kendall Hills announced.

Reece, a 6-foot-2 guard for the men's basketball team, underwent a series of tests and examinations since passing out in a pick-up game at McArthur Court two weeks ago.

The tests revealed an extra electrical pathway in Reece's heart, a condition known as Wolf-Parkinson-White Syndrome.

"Johnnie had a heart problem, and we're going to be very cautious with him," Head Coach Jerry Green said. "It seems like a routine procedure, but we will study him closely before we allow him to do anything."

Reece, a Denver, Colo. native, averaged 7.8 points and three assists in starting 16 games last year as a freshman.

Reece is expected to be cleared for full practice before the Ducks' season opener at the Nov. 26 Great Alaskan Shootout.
